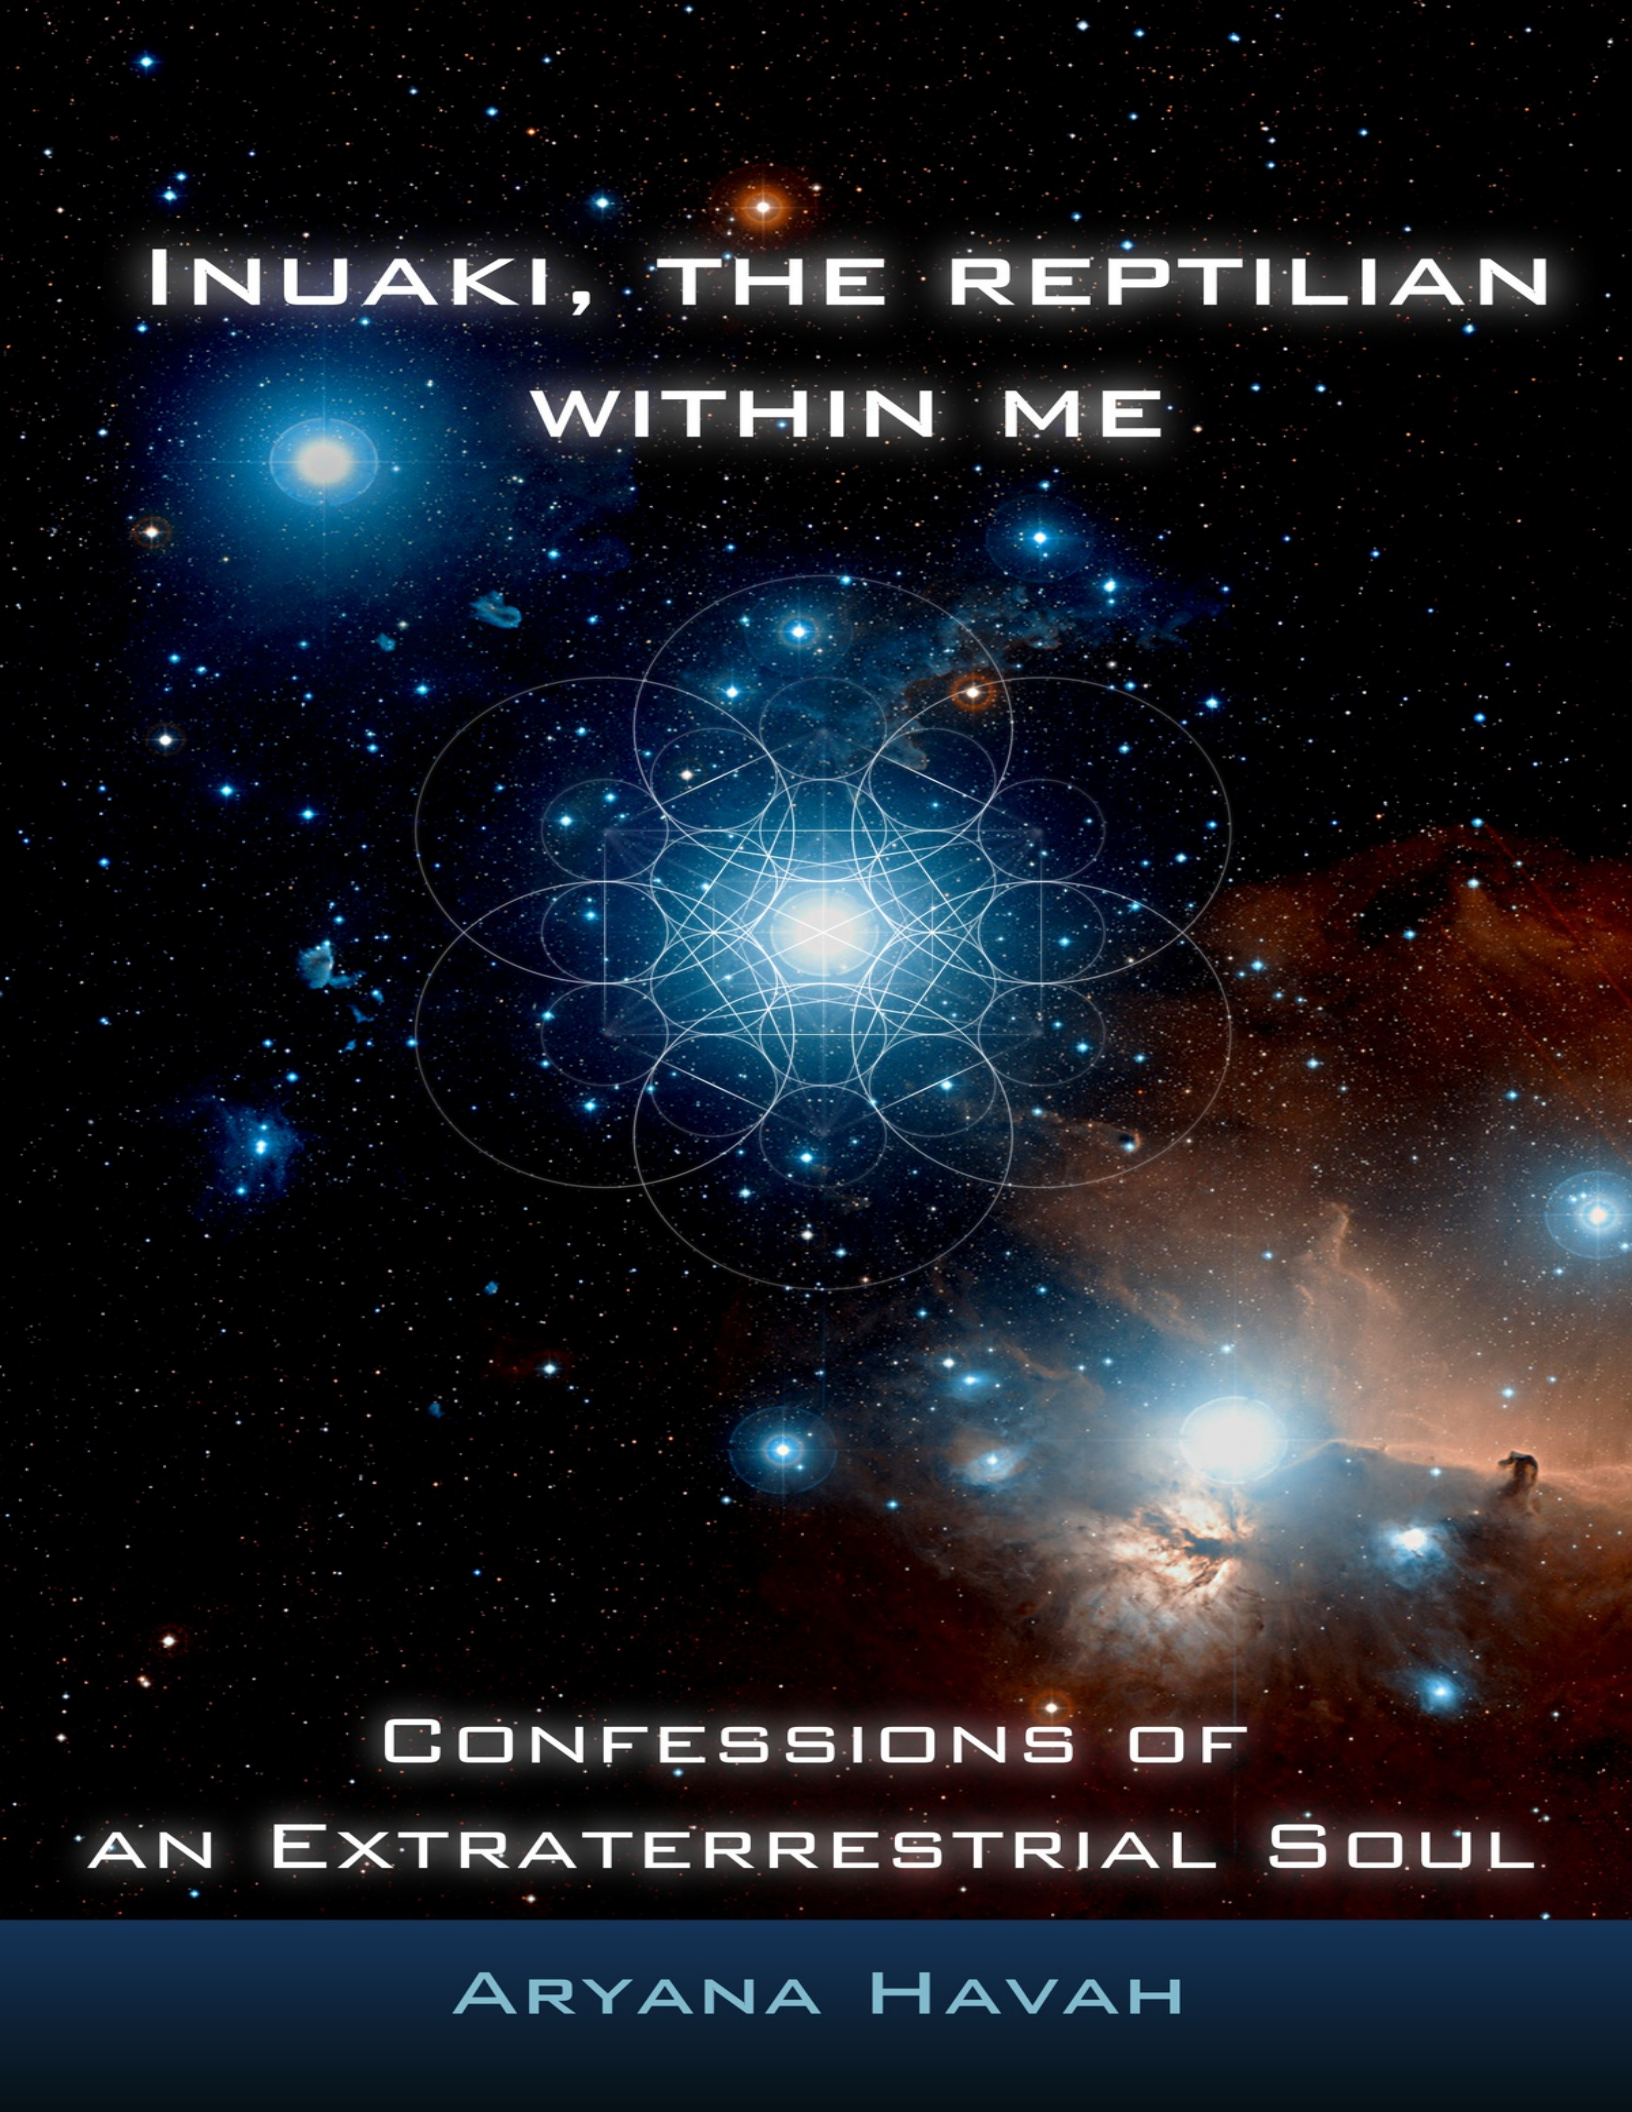
Inuaki, the reptilian within me



Confessions of an Extraterrestrial Soul

Aryana Havah

CONFESSIONS OF AN EXTRATERRESTRIAL SOUL

ARYANA HAVAH

An ORFEU 2000 Publishing
BUCHAREST, 2009

INUAKI, THE REPTILIAN WITHIN ME

Shocking confessions about the past, present and future of Earth

Originally written in Romanian. This document is a transcription of the audio recordings made by the author.

Original title: Inuaki, reptilianul din mine
Subheading: Dezvaluiri tulburatoare despre trecutul, prezentul si viitorul Pamantului

Communing with God is not merely a question of exploring our goodness and inferiorities; it involves understanding the living universe by harnessing its infinite possibilities and the freedom of choice granted to us.

Preface

Dear ones, I believe that this era does not bring deterioration; on the contrary, it is guiding us along our path of spiritual evolution. Although we might encounter personal losses, conflicts, lean times, and fearful impulses, these in fact mean the greatest help in becoming the healers of ourselves individually and collectively. Every one of us carries the seed of Creation ever since our essence first came to existence, but we can evolve only if we transform ourselves from the inside. At the same time we are not helpless against Earth changes either; our decisions and actions or the lack thereof are shaping the forthcoming events and will define the future of our race. By now many have learned the appalling truth that humans have been kept blindfolded, misled and controlled for millennia; that democracy and equality of the ‘free world‘ are nothing more than empty phrases and unfulfilledpromises . By a twist of fate I have become an ambassador for releasing this profound information, and my purpose in doing this is nothing more, nor less. I am compelled to share my encounter with this lightworker who calls himself David for I believe he is a forerunner sent to help us recover our human history, and point to the trail that leads us into a more peaceful, loving, and balanced future. The paradigm shift will inevitably bring us closer to our Creator, who has empowered us to be the creators of our own reality, because understanding the process of creation will lead to a better understanding of the Creator.

I know we are all one; our immortal essence makes up the one pointillist picture, and we have carried the primeval experience of inherent Oneness within our soul since the dawn of time.

Introduction

First of all let me say a few words about myself. I do not have an easygoing personality, indeed I am one of those people who continuously search, have a critical mindset and who often find themselves investigating the greater picture behind their first-hand experiences rather than reaching out for ready-made scientific definitions. I wouldn't say I am new to paranormal activities either as I have been receiving messages from other realms ever since I was a child. While conversing, I tend to notice my companion's shortcomings before noticing their strengths due to the nature of my profession.

I am a psychologist who works with children, primarily. Children of all ages and from all kinds of social background are brought to me. During my career I have encountered cases where the parents were the ones who should have been treated, while in other cases the child did have an inherent difficulty to fit in. Some of them are introverted yet others show a rich palette of emotional display, but all of them are intellectual beings who strive to live up to the expectations of their environment and integrate into a human society by trying to tune in to the frequency of this planet, essentially.

It is my firm belief that prospective parents ought to undergo parenting education before the arrival of their newborn. There is no need to inundate children with presents and possessions because what they need is love and caring attention. Not having enough time for them, or us being tired and stressed means that they often get pushed aside for we tend to send them to their bedroom or to play outside, or even worse: we hire other people to look after them and to fulfil their needs. Then, with the passing of the years we ask ourselves why on Earth the child is so shy or from whom they inherited that cruel disposition and tone of voice. Many parents go on looking for genetic defects running in the family to blame instead of facing their own shortcomings as a parent. Dysfunctional upbringing often remains a vague conflict of the subconscious in such parents, who rarely come to realise their mistakes, even though they may feel guilty deep down. Suffice to say, I have to deal with the consequences of all this on a daily basis. Sometimes I win yet other times I lose and nothing changes, but as a matter of fact a small degree of attachment develops between parent and child as a result of the therapy sessions. This thread of light then grows thicker and stronger between them with every hug, kind word, good night kiss and bedtime story.

Let us go back to our original story to be told , though. I clearly recall, it was a cloudy summer morning and the air was heavy with moisture. I opened the window to let some fresh air relieve my slight discomfort. It felt as though I wasn't fully myself. Indeed I felt a mild pressure over my solar plexus, which is how my body normally signals me the approach of an unpleasant happening. I honestly hoped that it was a false alarm because a new client was scheduled for that morning; a young boy.

He arrives on time to my practice, accompanied by his mother. This wonderful child has sky blue eyes and unkempt chestnut brown hair, and he is wearing a worn pair of jeans matched with a yellow T-shirt that reads: 'Love me'. I think to myself just how great it would be if we wrote 'Love me!' on the T-shirt of every child. That way we would not forget to. He takes a long look at me and sits himself in the armchair unfalteringly. I learn (although I have previously seen in his client record) that his name is David and he is seven years of age. (David isn't his real name.)

Usually what happens next is, following a short period of time while we get comfortable with each other, that I ask the parents to wait in the lobby, once I am certain that I can communicate with young clients. To my surprise though David asks his mum to leave before I choose to.

I find this somewhat unsettling for I did not instruct him to do so. To my inquiry I find out that he was brought here by his mother because he hears voices in his head. This voice is like a telephone call that answers his unspoken questions, it offers solution to certain problems he has without having to turn to an external source, he informs me. He calls the name of this voice Aghton and goes on saying that Aghton comes from another star system, the same one David himself reincarnated from, and Aghton stays in touch with him for the entire duration of David's stay on Earth. When asking David how long he is staying here for, he says an approximate two hundred years in reply, but cannot tell exactly because soon we will start measuring time differently.

We talk for almost an hour and I am genuinely taken aback by how mature and thorough his answers are. Throughout our conversation I have the definite feeling that some of his answers are given by the 'telephone voice' in his head. Before leaving my office he turns towards me in the doorway and says that when his mum told him about this appointment the previous night, Aghton instructed him to get the psychologist to write down everything, even if she dislikes what she hears or does not believe a word of it for it is all true, adding that I should not worry about the ornament I broke this morning when I closed the window.

You can imagine my alarm at that moment, especially because I was the only one who knew about this! It served as a message to reassure me of his credibility, of course. It must have worked, for it suddenly dawned on me that I was wrong to think of 'voices in the head' as either merely extremely vivid hallucinations of the mind or some schizophrenic experience of esoteric nature, or perhaps a result of a mind process by which individuals aim to rise above their environment as part of a superiority complex – despite these preconceptions being grounded in my professional training.

So this is how I got into the role of the narrator. Respecting his wish, I have attempted to gather all the important messages from the recordings and put them down here the way they were delivered, unaltered to retain their originality and purity.

I would like to thank you for your time spent reading this document. Some of you will call it nonsense yet others will understand the message. I apologise to the former and truly wish the rest of you find your path and realise your life‘s mission.

SESSION I.

During our second meeting I feel closer to this child and a strong, intimate bond is beginning to form between us. It feels as if we have known each other for a long time, like we were old friends.

I ask him whether he prefers to be asked questions or he wants to talk. After giving it some thought, he opts for me asking him.

Aryana: What is your name on this planet?

David: David.

A: Do you have other names, too?

D: I don't. I have had many names but I have only one now.

A: What would you like to be called?

D: David.

A: Why?

D: Because this is my current name.

A: You said at the beginning that you had arrived from another planet through the process of reincarnation. Do you know the name of that planet?

D: It is called Inua and it's close to Orion.

A: Are its inhabitants called Inuas?

D: No, they are called Inuakis.

A: So are you an Inuaki?

D: I was an Inuaki. I am an earthling now.

A: What is your old planet like?

D: It's prettier than Earth.

A: Does it look similar to Earth?

D: It does. It has waters, mountains and plains, but the vegetation is different. The trees there have a silver hue, only a bit lighter tone.

A: Are there seasons?

D: Yes, but not like here. There is no winter or snow there. Only rain. The trees don't shed their leaves and there is no hot weather like here in the summer.

A: Do they have seas and oceans?

D: Yes, we call the seas avata and the oceans surim. We have fish, only they are coloured differently. In fact everything has a different shade of colour.

A: What kind of shades?

D: Other kinds, I don't know how to describe them. The same colours as on Earth but a bit fainter. Red is not so red like here but whitish-red.

A: So it's pink.

D: Not really, more like a faded shade of red, like it was mixed with white.

A: And what are the Inuakis like? Are they humans?

D: No, they are Inuakis. They look very similar to lizards, but also to humans.

A: Are they reptiles then?

D: Not reptiles. Inuakis.

A: Can you describe their looks?

D: They are tall, approximately the height of your bookshelf (2 metres). They stand on feet and have two hands with three fingers on each hand. Inuakis walk similar to the way humans do and have a thick, strong tail. Their skin is white, their eyes are golden-purple and they talk like us and like them.

A: What do you mean by 'like them'?

D: I mean with thoughts. They say something with their mind and the others can hear it.

A: Is this the same kind of messaging that you use here, as well?

D: Yes, of course.

A: What is their skin like? Scaly?

D: No, it's soft like ours. Silky and without any hair on their head or body.

A: Do they have teeth?

D: Yes, they do.

A: What do these Inuakis eat?

D: Food like we do, but not meat. They eat things that we might call vegetable and fruit and kernels.

A: Do they cultivate these plants similar to our own methods?

D: Similarly, but it does not take as long for them.

A: What do you mean by that?

D: There you put a seed in the soil, add a little water and focus on when you want it to be ready to eat and so it will ripen for the time you had previously picked.

A: So if I want apples for tomorrow then I can harvest them from the tree tomorrow?

D: Not in such a short time. The shortest period of time is two revolutions.

A: What revolution?

D: Of the planet. It is equal to five Earth days.

A: So you're saying this way you can provide for yourself. Can you get food from others?

D: Yes, you can ask anyone to give you food if you need something and hadn't thought to grow it in time. Everybody is willing to help you out, but it doesn't happen all that often.

A: And how does this miracle happen? How can the Inuakis manage to get any produce they want? Is it down to the quality of their soil?

D: It's part of it, because the soil is somewhat different from what we have here and is very pure. But that's not enough in itself; intention matters. They ask for something from the Matrix and so it materialises because they need it. They only ask for what they need. Nothing more. Everything is fresh and it would be pointless to store food because they can pick it anytime. There is no point to ask more than you need either; it would mean making waste, which is not pleasing to the Matrix.

A: And how do you go about it? Put a seed in the soil and then concentrate on getting it to germinate?

D: Something like that. You sow the seed, water it with some sort of water, send it light and love and focus on joining the seed with its Universal Matrix that supplies the information needed for its growth and development within the period of time you defined for this. In that very moment the seed fills up with light, a thin light beam sprouts from it and links with the Matrix. This is how the process starts.

A: What happens to the rest of the plant after you have harvested its edible parts?

D: It can either live on – although its next harvest will only be used for the seeds – or let it dry out and ask for its fast decomposition to its primary elements for upkeeping balance on the planet.

A: You mean they have no rubbish?

D: Not really. No rubbish is produced for they don't use any wrapping materials and such. If something needs to be thrown away then it is taken to a particular place where the Inuakis accelerate its decomposition to its elementary form. This way they have no landfills or unwanted objects lying about.

A: But say someone is lazy to take care of the unwanted things the proper way and simply dumps them by the roadside?

D: Why would anyone do that? I'd never heard of anyone doing that. It would be illogical.

A: Do you have cars or any form of transport?

D: We do, some sort. We travel off-planet by vehicles that humans call flying saucers. The same types are used to travel on Inua, but smaller ones.

A: What kind of fuel is needed for those?

D: They don't use fuel. Their vehicles move by way of perpetual motion, working endlessly without fuel because inside them there are certain discs on top of each other that keep them going. These discs are magnets of opposing polarity that create a field known on Earth as Mer-Ka-Ba. In this system two tetrahedrons are activated by the power of thought and the magnetic discs in the middle of the tetrahedrons begin rotating, so the very energy field of the magnets captured within the tetrahedrons initiates the rotation of these tetrahedrons. This rotation then creates a field that facilitates the movement of the vehicle. Vertical movement of the craft is achieved by changing their polarity, whereas adjusting the angle of the magnets controls directional movement. This is done with a kind of a helmet you put on your head, which is directly connected to the heart of the vehicle.

A: So your vehicles are propelled by the power of thought, aren't they?

D: The power of thought is part of it. They won't work without the magnets, though.

A: What are the crafts made of?

D: A metal alloy. It's a combination of five different kinds of metal. You have these elements here on Earth, too. The alloy is produced using radiated bundles of different colours. Using large crystals creates these rays.

A: Can anyone have a vessel like this?

D: Yes, but only if they need one.

A: Does it become your property if you take it, regardless of whether you will use it or not?

D: The vessels belong to everyone. If you don't need it anymore then you return it to where you took it. No point keeping it for yourself. This way anyone can use it when they need it.

A: Is there a charge for the hire? Do you use money at all?

D: No, money doesn't exist there because you can't do anything with it. Everyone works when needed, helps one another when asked and everything they need is provided for.

A: Do you have leaders?

D: We do, in a way. After every 260th planetary rotation a leader is elected along with a council of twelve advisors. It's similar to the elections here but no one can be elected more than once. Only when every citizen has been elected once can a person be re-elected, but only those who have lived for at least 5200 rotations can become leaders or advisors.

A: I guess it's a good thing.

D: Yes, it is because everyone demonstrates an optimistic and altruistic approach to the task and good intentions manifest quite naturally.

A: Do they raise children?

D: They do. The system is different though. When the need for new offspring is declared, volunteers who are willing to conceive a child are recruited. The offspring are brought up at a special place with optimum conditions for development. It's just like a care home for children, a home in which they get everything they need. They learn about the history of their planet, farming and social skills, meditation techniques, telepathic communication, the use of technology and much more. Their educators are always the oldest and most experienced Inuakis. The little ones can meet their parents anytime they want to, and so do the parents if they wish. Anyhow, communication is through telepathy so physical separation is not an obstacle. Geographical distance isn't a problem there.

A: Are they born live or hatch from eggs like reptiles?

D: They are born live but they are not really born as such because the embryos are conceived and develop in a special place designed for this purpose. The parents visit this place and leave their reproductive material there so the embryos grow and develop in a controlled environment. For this reason they never fall ill and nor are there any genetic defects either.

A: Do the offspring inherit the dwelling and material possessions from their parents?

D: If they want to, but there's no need for it, actually. Every adolescent receives help in learning to provide for themselves so there's no point in acquiring anything from parents when you can create anything you need.

A: What about family ornaments such as jewellery? Do you have anything like that?

D: No, we don't because these things are worthless. We have gold but it is used for building vessels and in metal alloys. It's not practical to wear gold or any other metal; these interfere with your energy field.

A: Gold has a high value in our society.

D: Because it gives you a certain status or rank, but on Inua you cannot pretend to be something you are not. Everyone knows who they deal with; they are aware of each other's skills and capabilities.

A: I thought all Inuakis are the same.

D: They aren't, actually. They have different experiences, abilities and affinities just like humans. Some are competent builders while others are good with plants or make good teachers. This, of course, doesn't mean that the others cannot do these things. Each of them has to learn all of those things and later they can decide what suits them best.

D: Are there couples like husband and wife? Are there different sexes at all?

A: There are different sexes that couple up, but not like here. On Inua you don't have to stay with your partner any longer than you actually want to. You may choose either to be on your own anytime or find another partner. Children can stay with their parents after growing up if they chose to, but that doesn't happen. Although allowed, nobody feels it necessary because everyone is a friend with one another.

A: Do they party together like we do?

D: They can meet up anytime but I didn't see any parties, as we know them.

A: Are there occasional quarrels between neighbours?

D: Such a thing doesn't exist there anymore. If an argument was ever to arise then the council would gather and turn to the Book of Laws for advice on the matter. This hasn't happened for a very long time though.

D: What is the Book of Laws?

A: An enormous crystal into which their ancestors encoded certain rules. These are universal rules, essentially. If you have a problem you just place your hand on the crystal and it sends the solution to the problem into your mind in accordance with the guiding laws written within.

A: How does it send the solution to your mind?

D: I'm not sure exactly for I'd never done it but from what I understand, certain pictures form in your mind to show you what you should do.

A: And they follow the advice?

D: Sure.

A: What if someone resents the answer and chooses to ignore it?

D: It does not happen. Everyone follows what he or she saw in their mind. Every Inuaki respects the Law.

A: Suppose an Inuaki rejected to act upon the crystal's suggestion, instead they decided to kill the entity who harmed them in the first place in order to settle the case.

D: (laughing loud) That's impossible. To kill someone means to kill yourself. Murder causes perturbation in the Matrix that lashes back on the perpetrator. Such things do not happen there. Murder did exist in the distant past but they had left behind what we call the law of cause-and-effect a long time ago. I'm not quite sure how to explain it to you but they cannot harm others. They simply would not know how to, these things do not exist there. I remember how completely aberrant the thought of killing seemed when I first heard about violence.

A: It used to go like that though, right?

D: Yes, a really long time ago. We were taught about it, but it happens differently nowadays.

A: Could you put it in Earth years for me?

D: (after a short pause) Maybe five hundred thousand years ago.

A: So you have lived in this perfect harmony for half a million years?

D: Less than that. It was hard at the beginning, until the inhabitants diverged.

A: What made them separate?

D: Let's continue next time.

A: Certainly.

I say goodbye to David and try to get my head around all that has just been said. Looking back I now realise that I should have asked more specific questions but I was confused by the novelty of the information and I lost my concentration. Therefore, I jot down a few details that I would like to explore in more detail during our next session.

SESSION II.

A: Could you talk some more about life on Inua for me? Do they have their own houses or live in some sort of communal lounges?

D: They all have their own private home. Well, these are not really houses or blocks of flats, as we know the term.

A: So what do they live in , exactly?

D: Underground facilities. They had realised how much useful land is lost if their homes are built aboveground so instead they grow crops atop these underground houses to make full use of the soil.

A: What are the buildings made of?

D: The walls are made from the mixture of sand and various other crystalline mineral powders. This mixture is molten by energy waves – in the same way as for building vessels from alloys – and the large blocks cast from this compound are later cut to appropriate sizes. These panels are then lowered into the ground and get molten together into seamless cubes.

A: Do they use furniture?

D: They do, but only from natural materials. They have something very similar to bamboo or timber. Also, they do not wear clothes.

A: In other words they are naked.

D: Yeah, but it's perfectly natural. It would be weird to walk around dressed.

A: Are they ever cold?

D: They turn to the Matrix for warmth if they feel cold.

A: How?

D: If I am cold then I tune in to the Universal Matrix and ask for warmth. In that moment my body gets all warmed up and I stop feeling cold. In a way it's like my own body helps me warm up.

A: Can you do the same here?

D: You could but it won't last because of the vast amount of interference around.

A: And how do you access light?

D: The same way. I ask for light from the Universal Matrix and I sure receive it.

A: So if I was to connect to the Universal Matrix and ask for light then this room would fill up with light?

D: Certainly not. Here it isn't possible just yet but soon it will be. Currently there is a lot of perturbation, so even if you were able to do this by concentrating hard, the effect would still disappear within seconds because the morphogenetic field of Earth does not permit it.

A: Not yet, you said. But will it become possible in the future for sure?

D: Even sooner than you think.

A: When?

D: Quite soon. All I can say is that you shall see for yourself.

A: Maybe in the next life!

D: Nope, definitely during your present lifetime.

A: Can you explain?

D: Soon there will be a shift in the vibration level of this planet.

A: The famous year 2012!

D: Right. The planet will enter into the fifth dimension and then…

A: How can it enter into the fifth dimension when we live in the third dimension right now? May we omit the fourth one and jump straight to the fifth?

D: We are in the fourth dimension now though.

A: No, our world exists in the third dimension. Everyone knows this.

D: Everyone who dismisses the fact that the time factor is a dimension in its own right.

A: Time can be measured!

D: So can the length, width and height of objects.

A: True, but those were invented by man.

D: Not only length or width but absolutely everything else that can be measured and added up was created by man, too.

A: So we will enter directly into the fifth dimension, won't we?

D: Something like that but first we'll experience and understand certain viewpoints, including various so-called dimensions.

A: So you are saying that one night we go to bed and the next morning we wake up in the fifth dimension, right?

D: No, it won’t happen like that. We won't find ourselves in a different world all of a sudden. There will be a lot of signs or precursors on Earth prior to the shift. Anyhow, these changes might take about three months to happen. During these three months we will realise what actually is the fourth dimension.

A: What sorts of signs do you mean?

D: First of all the year 2009 will be a determinative one. In the second half of 2009 there will be various natural disasters hitting Earth, some of those causing land erosion, especially in the flooded coastal regions. Volcanic activity will also increase and long-time inactive volcanoes might erupt once again. Seismic activity will strengthen too and devastate distant regions simultaneously. Humanity is going to face a strong solar wind phenomenon in 2011, which will temporarily disable the use of electricity and electromagnetic winds will sever the information systems.

A: Any idea when the next spacecraft is departing to Inua? I must grab a ticket!

D: Unfortunately there is no service in that direction.

A: Well, it sounds like we are soon facing a pretty dark period.

D: It will be like any other process that takes place. Earth itself induces this cleansing program and we all have to be a part of it. It will be a challenging period but keeping the end result in mind, it's certainly worth the struggle. A different world awaits us. I can’t explain it to you in any conceivable way because it must be experienced and seen with your own eyes, there is no reference point to it as of yet.

A: A world of utopia. Like a fairy tale where we wake up in a perfect world.

D: As I said to you, we are on that path but won't get there instantaneously. During a few chaotic years to come everything will undergo change and fundamental human factors will need be reconsidered, especially in regards to scientific and religious dogmas.

A: How long will this process take in your estimation?

D: Between three to five years.

A: Before or after 2012?

D: After 2012. Until then we need to come to terms with the fact that we are not alone in the Universe.

A: As far as I know in 2012 the Earth aligns with the centre of the galaxy, which is in fact a black hole. Actually, can you tell me what a black hole really is?

D: Black holes are places where no dimensions can be detected. A complete void. A sort of null point of the universe where creation ceases to exist.

A: In other words nothing exists there? What is it good for?

D: It is a place where all matter disintegrates due to a gigantic center force. Planets that have gone cold, asteroids, comets and dust clouds are crammed into it. It is like a huge agitator if you like because everything that gets into it disintegrates into its subatomic particles and then transforms into energy – and nothing gets lost in the process.

A: Some say these black holes actually serve as gateways into other realms.

D: No, they are what I just told you. Links between universes are established through vortices, and vortices exist since the beginning of creation. Of course such vortices can be artificially generated, too.

A: How?

D: With the power of thought and through the use of enormous crystals. When an image formed in the mind and is projected into the crystals, a thought-form is created by this process, which causes disturbance in the Matrix. The disturbance creates a sort of tunnel in the physical form in space and this enables a connecting between universes.

A: Are you telling me that more than one Universe exists?

D: There are ten universes in total.

A: Wow. Are the other universes the same as ours?

D: They are unique. Although they were created in a similar way, these are separate and autonomous systems, each of them bearing a corresponding counterpart in the Matrix.

A: Which one is governed by God?

D: It depends on which God you mean.

A: Well... the one we say our prayers to.

D: Yes, we all pray to the same God, the one we 'inherited' but that God is not the Creator. Each universe has its own creator and leading entities, though above everything there is something infinite and immensely magnificent, a form of energy that we might call the Highest God or the Source, The Infinite. Every creature exists within the Highest God including every universe, the world, all the Gods and leading entities. The Highest God encompasses everything.

A: Does anything else exist apart from the Highest God?

D: I don’t know for sure but I don’t think so. I doubt anyone could answer that.

A: What if the Highest God is just a part of another God?

D: Interesting thought. I hadn't heard or read anything in support of this theory and the Inuakis have all these things written down in the Book of Laws. Even if it does exist, no one has reached that level of consciousness needed to have an insight into that.

A: Anyhow, it doesn’t matter. This would surpass our limits of comprehension anyway.

D: Indeed. The human perception is limited by current scientific views that, in fact, are merely mental blocks set by fellow humans. Creation is something totally different. It is not something we know or are even able to grasp right now. Humans are not some mechanical organisms but rather something way grander.

A: We are aware of that. There is an immortal soul imprisoned in our body.

D: It is not imprisoned!

A: Really?

D: The soul as you call it doesn't live in the body, at least not exclusively in it.

A: So where else is it then?

D: Way up, above all living things.

A: Can you be more precise?

D: Let me explain it to you. There is a thing similar to an air balloon above every human. This translucent, milky substance contains the copy of the physical form. You may think of it as a condensed copy of yourself. The balloon-like thing is attached to the body at the cranial region by a thick, twisted cord, which is about 15 to 20 centimetre (6-8 inches) thick for an adult and only 1 cm (0.4 in) or so in diameter at birth. The cord grows thicker during one's lifetime and tapers again with the approach of death to make it easier to detach from the body at the moment of death.

A: What happens when a young person dies in an accident?

D: In cases of violent and sudden death this detachment is likewise forced and painful.

A: Would this be all? We are tied to some sort of balloon and that's it?

D: Certainly not. I used this analogy only to describe the location of soul to you. We are connected to our body by this cord primarily, but there are thousands of other entry points throughout the body just like the root system of a tree. These root-like projections have different thickness and colour; the ones in the fingers are thin and blue, for instance.

A: What happens if a person loses his hand? Will these 'roots' retract into the living flesh?

D: No, they remain in place as if the hand continued to exist.

A: What happens to these branches in the moment of death?

D: They all retract before the linking cord tears, first from the arms and legs and then from the shoulders and the hips. Next up is the stomach region, then the head and finally the one in the heart.

A: Where do they retreat to?

D: All the branches gather in a sort of tube inside the spinal cord, even the one from the heart. They remain in the spine for three days or so before this faltering cord finally brakes, making the sphere ready to depart from the body.

A: Is it true that a person takes his deeds with him?

D: Not his deeds. He takes his characteristics, abilities and weaknesses with him though.

A: What about his actions?

D: One's deeds are stored in the Matrix. All deeds register in the Matrix at the time of doing and they will remain in it.

A: We refer to this 'library' as the Akashic Record.

D: It is the Universal Matrix of Creation.

A: Like a gigantic information bank or a sort of huge computer, isn't it?

D: I guess we can say that, although computers are created and the Matrix has always existed. The Matrix was not created; on the contrary, it has created us.

A: By the term Matrix do you actually mean God?

D: No, God governs the Matrix. The Matrix, which is an energy-form, exists independently as an entirety.

A: I don’t get it. Can you explain it in more detail?

D: I don’t know how.

A: Are God and the Matrix different concepts?

D: No, but they are not the same either. God and the Matrix have always existed. They share the same energy build-up but God can work with the Matrix while the Matrix can’t work with God. Creation comes from the Matrix.

A: Would you describe the Matrix for me?

D: The Matrix is the primary form of energy. Every thought-form, concept, mental imprint and energy that has ever been or will be manifested in the multiverse is found within it.

A: It is a kind of Holy Ghost that God breathed into humans when he created us, isn't it?

D: Something like that. Humans and everything else were once created from the energy of the Matrix but the soul comes from God. Thus, only the soul is part of God.

A: We know that the Lord has created us in his own image.

D: All things have been created by the Lord: plants, animals, even stones, while forms, characteristics and other properties are given to creations by the Matrix. The manifested are split from the Matrix energy, which is why fundamentally all things are projections of the Creator.

A: So plants have these kinds of balloons too, don't they?

D: Yes, everything does. Plants, animals, stones, even entities that we cannot see while we are incarnated in a body.

A: Sure, but…

D: I feel tired. I’d like us to stop for now.

He leaves and I sink into the armchair he was sitting in earlier. I am trying to feel his presence in order to grasp his essence while I’m thinking about what a mature and wise soul inhabits this fragile body. As I attempt to sense his being and experiences, a wealth of thoughts of my own begin to formulate in my head. I am anxious to get a lot more answers but, at the same time, I know I must not put pressure on him.

SESSION III.

A: Please continue from where we left off last time.

D: We were talking about plants and animals.

A: And that sphere.

D: Right. So everything has a sphere like that. Every single thing that has ever been created has a thing like that attached to it. For instance, when a person decides to build a house for himself the house first appears as a sphere and simply floats nearby the person whose idea the house was. Then the sphere is drawn and gets attached to the location the moment construction starts and it stays there until the house ceases to exist. Its sphere becomes more defined as the building work progresses.

A: What about buying a property?

D: The property comes with its own sphere as it belongs to the place rather than to the owners. The downside of it is that its sphere retains the memories and experiences of the people who had lived there before. Sadness and happiness alike, and death, too.

A: Does this have an influence on the new owners?

D: It does.

A: Some people can to rid the house of certain energies and vibrations though as they have the ability to detect things that had happened there in the past.

D: Sure, they do this by accessing these spheres and extracting information from them. They might also have the ability to cleanse the place from harmful interferences and various energetic charges.

A: Can the old sphere be destroyed and a new one created in its place?

D: It cannot because the sphere is linked to that specific spot.

The sphere and the house were once created together, so the sphere is inseparable from the house as long as the house exists. This is a physical law.

A: So God has created us and we each have a sphere like that. We are also able to create – and everything we create will have such a sphere, too?

D: Not the same, only similar. We are part of God, thus we are able to create. This is why humans invent and develop new things. This is the reason why the human experience changes and evolves.

A: Which means we are able to work with the Matrix, aren't we?

D: Certainly. We work with the Matrix anyway, even if we don’t create a thing during an entire lifetime, for our every experience and action is recorded in the Matrix.

A: Why is that?

D: Because experiences are energy-forms and the Matrix stores energy.

A: What about Karma and one’s fate? Also features of the Matrix?

D: They are found in the Matrix. Let’s say you do a good deed, for instance aid someone's healing. Your goodwill, your intention of helping someone enters the Matrix and this energy-form leaves an imprint there, which is stored and will be sent back to you the moment you need it.

A: What happens with bad deeds?

D: Bad deeds, if we can call them that at all, are essentially thought-forms charged with negative energy. These energies cannot affect the Matrix; instead the person who created them suffers from its consequences. In the right moment when the person 'needs' it, this energy is returned to him because everything must be balanced out. The more negative thought-forms or action-forms you create, the more you will be targeted by them. Some people call this bad luck.

A: So people ought to focus their energies on creating well-being and harmony, right?

D: That's right. The Matrix in its primary state is love, harmony and perfection. This is why all things that aren't in accordance with its polarity need to be removed from it. And how can this be done? By sending it back to its source, for only the 'sender', the originator of that energy can break it down and neutralise it.

A: Do you think that the angels of karma exist?

D: Yes, they do. They are known by this name but they are actually the governing entities of the Matrix. They live within the Matrix in perfect harmony with it and they are the ones responsible for maintaining its balance. These entities oversee that when a soul incarnates a body, it does so according to the laws of the incarnation process. Over time everyone gets back what they have sent out. We originally received health, peace and intelligence from the Matrix. If a person generated hate, imbalances and suffering then these vibrations will be returned to them.

A: You mean in their next life?

D: Maybe in the next one, but not necessarily. It would be for the best if they got it back during the same lifetime. That would make things much simpler.

A: Once we were all equals though, weren't we?

D: We are still equals. All things in the Universe and in the Matrix are equal. We are all connected to each other here on Earth and belong to the same segment of the Matrix. Inua, for example belongs to another Matrix segment. Nonetheless, the Earth is connected to Inua within the Matrix – we are separate yet connected on a certain level if you know what I mean.

A: Which means Inuakis are our brothers!

D: They are. We belong to the same energy and notion, the same agenda, the same creation process. There is a segment within the Matrix from which we were created and that common energy package corresponds to our energy and influences us. Earthlings, just like Inuakis, are connected on the level of subconscious. If something happens to a person, it happens to everybody. There is a strong bond between humans, the Earth and the rest of the Solar System. Actions of an individual impact on the entire human species.

A: I can see that. But why would I be responsible for another person's decision to drop an atomic bomb?

D: Because you turned a blind eye by not opposing it. If the individuals disagreeing with it would come together or at least felt strongly against and wished for abolition, then these thought-forms would appear in the Matrix and convert to energy waves that others will receive. Humanity at present lives in a deep state of complacency. Many people are indifferent to experiencing harmony. I'm talking about the heartfelt wishes of one's soul, not the selfish wanting of individual goals as a substitute for happiness.

A: I don't believe that my yearning for world peace in itself would make a difference.

D: Maybe you don't. Others believe in it even less so – better to leave things the way they are then and hope that others who are more prepared and agile than us will realise it somehow. Why make an effort if someone else can do it instead?

A: Well, we can't really work it on a big scale. I see what you mean but people generally don't believe they can change things on a global level.

D: There is living proof of people whose actions have had a global impact. It can be done if the decision comes from the heart and not from others who tell you what to do. Humans have been trained to make decisions based on supplied information, prejudices and ideas of others. We are told that we were born, we live and we shall die but who decided all this?

A: God did.

D: Wrong. We did. We have created a though-form of energy in the Matrix to which we have all connected. And by instilling children with 'scientific' explanations, they are also linked to this energy pattern by their environment, so the chain remains unbroken. The truth is, we have programmed ourselves. You, as an individual, need to decide not joining in or accepting this self-programming, and declare that you wish for something else.

A: Could this really work?

D: Absolutely! By doing this, you create a new thought-form, which others will join once they understand and experience how creating and using life energy works.

A: And how am I meant to put this across to others?

D: I propose that we create a new thought-form for human immortality. Invite others to join you and visualise that people grow up and simply stay that way – healthy, strong and full of vitality.

A: This would result in the overpopulation of the planet.

D: Don't worry, everything is regulated. The number of human incarnations at any one time is defined by the Matrix. There is just no other way.

A: What if there will be no death anymore and you want to leave the Earth plane?

D: That is self-regulatory.

A: Fine…I can try. On Sunday evenings at half past ten, then. What do we need to do?

D: For five minutes each time simply recite aloud, as well as picture yourself young, strong, mature, and being loving towards others, and that there is no such thing as death but we live forever. This will build an energy pattern which others may strengthen by their own power of visualisation.

A: I guess we could give it a go. My only concern is that some people might attempt to alter the thought or add their own wishes to this energy.

D: Every word frees up a certain sort of energy and colour. The thought-form we create this way will only be accessible to those sending similar vibes, so nothing will be able to disturb the form because it will have been created on a particular frequency.

A: Okay, we'll do it then.

D: Great.

A: You have said earlier that everything we do first appears in a sphere of thought-form and subsequently manifests in the material world. What about the things that we buy rather than make?

D: Those objects have their own sphere, as well. For example the computer you buy was based on an idea that created an thought-form in the Matrix and later it took shape in the physical world. The prototype of that computer has its sphere to which every computer has been linked since.

A: So does a piece of clothing not have its own sphere?

D: It does not. Mass-produced items are connected to the prototype of that particular garment design.

A: By the way, what about cursed diamonds that are said to bring trouble for their owners?

D: I am talking about manufactured things. In nature everything has its corresponding sphere in the Matrix. In other words, every single thing created by God has its own unique sphere which links to another, larger one. Man-made objects, on the other hand, have only one common sphere no matter how many copies of the object there are. These spheres carry a different energy from the ones originating in the Matrix.

A: What is the case with my neighbour using the same builder as I, who builds a house similar to mine?

D: It does not matter even if the two houses are identical. They both have their own sphere attached to them because the creator who thought-initiated your neighbour's house is not you but another person; your neighbour.

A: How about second-hand clothes? Do they retain some sort of imprint of the person who wore them before? The person‘s energy must have an impact on the common sphere.

D: No, the residual energy is an imprint of the object itself. Suppose you inherit a bed. You will share the experiences of all those slept in it before, but you may change its energy by cleaning or painting it, or by changing its upholstery, for example. This way the energy of that bed is altered and renewed, which would be impossible with the imprint left in the common sphere.

A: How about animals?

D: Animals bear their own sphere, – although smaller than of humans – which links with a major sphere that features the main characteristics of the species that particular specimen belongs to. The same applies to plants and minerals, as well.

A: I see. What happens to a sphere on a person's death?

D: It returns to the relevant segment of the Matrix that it belongs to.

A: Does hell, as we know the term, exist?

D: I am not sure what is meant by hell but the sphere returns to its own place, the one matching the content of the sphere. Our Matrix segment comprises several levels and the spheres go to the appropriate vibrational level.

A: So they simply stay there idly.

D: Nope, they get in touch with the ones already there, the ones that match its vibration.

A: That sounds like wasting time.

D: That is what I think. Apparently, people want to grow up fast and they die soon, so that they return to the Matrix. Why is that, though? I have not figured it just yet. Our place is on the planet we are born on, but we come here and tend to rush off too fast. Our purpose here is to help, grow as a person and to learn the truth of Creation.

A: Do you have any idea what would happen to us if tyrants and mass murderers lived forever?

D: They would fail to survive as their presence on Earth was not permitted anymore. If humanity opts for life, peace, health, and eternity, then they could not come here again until they conform to these base principles and become like the rest of the population. The Matrix would prevent their reincarnation to Earth; it simply would not allow people with such a frequency to carry on here. These souls would then be removed from the Matrix segment of Earth, and would be diverted to a segment with a matching vibration. You need to understand that the majority gives direction.

A: I wish some of our leaders were taken away from here.

D: You should want it, then! On Sunday evenings let us focus our attention on eliminating those who fail to parallel the truths of the Matrix from Earth's segment, and diverting them to a different Matrix segment.

A: I guess this is something to do with our karma. This is what we deserve.

D: Nonsense. By saying that you basically submit yourself to their power, and this way of thinking is precisely what keeps them here. Forget karma. In fact mankind is on the verge of leaving the law of karma behind altogether. We do not owe anybody a thing so people have no reason to mindlessly accept anything. Every one of us needs to take charge individually and say that we have had enough, the abuse has to stop and from now on we are free beings. Ask the Matrix to remove those braking the rules, or limit others, or suppress the truth. The riches of the planet including minerals, fossil fuels, the air, water, and food should be at every human being's disposal, and not be monopolised. There is no way that God has given all this abundance to a handful of individuals or families to flourish. Why would God do such a thing? Demand your rights for yourselves and for your children!

A: Well, this sounds all nice and easy but you must surely realise that your vision is sheer utopia. Those who control the resources of planet Earth have done so for generations, even centuries.

D: And who gave them this birthright? Do you honestly think it was God's decision? That they made a pact with God? Maybe they hold some sort of certificate that entitles them to monopolise what is common treasure, right? Not at all. They snatched the resources out of the hands of others.

A: Our world would become utter chaos if we disregarded ownership.

D: Not the least, because at that point people will finally realise that everything is at their disposal and they can take and use anything, anytime they need it. This, of course, only comes after realising that to take more than you need makes no sense and you need not compete with the neighbour or envy someone else's house or car. You should know that you can have absolutely anything you want.

A: Sounds just like a fairy tale.

D: All I can say that this is the way forward. Humans and the planet deserves this. Humanity has reached a point where it has to take its fate into its own hands and start making its own decisions. People need to start living a sustainable life, reassess certain things, and make their own laws and choose their leaders themselves. And never again allow the Truth and Life to be taken away from them.

A: Nice. And how?

D: First of all you must believe that anything can be changed.

Secondly, you should ask the Matrix to help you wake from the slavery and ask for your right of free governance.

A: But we are the ones who elect our leaders!

D: Not the least. They elect themselves. The leaders of this planet have always been the same entities, by the way. Of course, they keep changing their physical form along with their identity, name and location but they represent the same energy throughout the millennia. They take over the power from each other, but their essence as thought-forms remain unchanged.

A: Are you thinking of the various occult organisations that are rumoured to have been secretly controlling the world?

D: Yes, except they do control it indeed. Everything about having free choices such as democratic elections, the illusion of monetary freedom and just laws is a deception. The whole system is based on a grand setup. You are presented with the choice of two persons they picked to govern a country, one of them being a tyrant and the other one is a mass murderer. These are the options, now which one do you choose?

A: Neither of them. I do not vote.

D: One of them wins anyway. Why? Because some people still favour the one that is considered less harmful.

A: Either way, one of the two will necessarily win it.

D: True. However, elections may be boycotted if people spoke up or simply refused to vote. Neither of them wins if no one votes for them, which is the first step for eliminating them.

A: Their people, their relatives will vote for them no matter what.

D: We could argue over it for a long time but consider this: our life is presented to us as something that is to be kept logical at all times. Humans are conditioned to never to listen to their intuitions or the voice of the soul. You must attempt to achieve something before you declare it impossible to do.

A: Maybe you will try it, the new generation. We are tired of it all.

D: So you think it is fair to relax and pass the responsibility to people who come after you. After all, it is much easier than making an effort.

A: I mean the younger generation, the crystal and indigo children…By the way, are you one of them?

D: I am not. They are a different kind of souls.

A: Really unique ones as I heard.

D: Yes, generally speaking, but not all of them. Not every person whose light-body features the colour purple has come here to help the planet. Some of them have been sent to destabilise the current situation on Earth, actually. Aghton says that people should not be indiscriminately lenient towards hyperactive or hard-to-handle children. Upbringing has little to do with the colour of a child's aura. Parents who are unable to handle their own children tend to blame their failure as a parent on things they have read about. Just as autism is, in fact, rarely a case of the person's inability to conform to his or her environment.

A: They say autistic children do not correspond to the vibrational level of our planet.

D: There is no way their frequency mismatches the Earth's vibration because they come from the same Matrix segment as the rest of us. They not only belong to this segment but also depend on it since Earth herself has come to existence.

A: So why are they different?

D: I am not saying that all of them but their majority has done something against the planet or other people in the past. I am talking about grave mistakes that leave an imprint in the Matrix when the person dies. This imprint attaches itself to the person in their next life, making them feel indifferent or lethargic in order to stop them from repeating the same mistake and to reestablish balance by returning their previous deeds to them. This is why they might become rejected or shut out by their environment. Regardless, it is our responsibility to help them because they belong to us, we all belong together. Again, we are interconnected on a certain level.

A: How about others who do not fall into this category?

D: They are pure, sensitive and noble souls with unique traits but who also caused a disturbance in the Matrix field at a point. However, there are few of them, and you may recognise them from their lack of aggression, and despite their problems, they radiate love. These individuals tend to be quiet and polite with a natural need for connecting with others, and people treat them as friends. These entities are here to do a specific mission. Most of them had been either a pioneer, an inventor or a revolutionary in a previous lifetime, who have left a legacy for mankind but perhaps misunderstood their purpose or misused their gift, so they have now returned to set it straight. These people have the ability to achieve revolutionary changes in their field. Being able to detect things we normally cannot means a problematic life for them, because they live in two worlds simultaneously. Society is yet to figure out how to help them, so for now they are poisoned with prescription drugs and are made to participate in social training programs instead.

A: Well, I have to disagree with you on this. These treatments do help them.

D: Not true. These treatments aim to make them behave and live like others on the level of form, to repress their uniqueness, when they should be left to harness their unique abilities. They are the ones who can truly prove the existence of phenomena beyond physical matter; that the strongest vibration is of the power of thought, and that space and time can be conquered.

A: You have lost me. Not like I want to argue, though. Would you talk about those indigo children who came to help the planet? Where do they come from?

D: They can be either from a segment corresponding to that of the Earth or of other segments. Those coming from this Matrix segment are actually advanced entities representing a new direction, while the ones from another Matrix segments are higher entities who aid the changes on Earth. Both kinds, however, have the ability to access the memory bank of the Matrix and use the stored relevant knowledge. These indigos adjust the easiest and quickest to the new vibrational level of Earth, therefore they are the ones who can take the planet back and manage it properly.

A: What happens to the rest of us who are unable to tune in to the new parameters?

D: These individuals will be redirected to another Matrix segment. It happens naturally anyway as the segments are cleansed of mismatching vibrations from time to time. The ones with a particular vibrational level then gather and form a new segment.

A. Like a new community?

D: Exactly. There they will stay together until a new cleansing process begins.

A: Are we in such a cleansing process right now?

D: Yes. Just think about it, entities of the same vibrational frequency had once been brought here but went on differentiating in the course of the last hundred thousand years. The time for equilibrium has come.

A: Is this the first one of such events?

D: This is the third one.

A: Can you tell me about the first two?

D: I know nothing about those.

A: So you say that from time to time the Universe regroups entities. The good ones stay together and the bad ones leave, right?

D: The bad cannot be separated from the good like this. The Matrix decides who stays and who leaves, based on the vibrational factor.

A: And this happens repeatedly? I wonder if these selected entities from all segments are taken to the same place.

D: Only if their vibrational level matches and they decide to create a new segment of a certain vibrational level.

A: I though the universes, planets and species differ from each other.

D: As I said, we are connected on a level. We are loaves from the same bread dough, figuratively speaking.

A: We obey different rules, though. What would happen if humans and Inuakis were moved to one place, for example?

D: That is impossible because our vibrational levels do not match. Inuakis used to be the way humans are now. Right now there is no such an evolved human being on Earth who measures up in vibration to the Inuakis yet.

A: Meaning that they are better, more peaceful and loving than us?

D: None of their acts cause perturbation in the Matrix anymore, whatever they might do. On the contrary, they actually help synchronise and positively charge the Matrix.

A: How?

D: With their actions, thoughts and experiences. Them being aware of their relationship to the Matrix means that they live in harmony with it, rather than tipping the balance.

A: I can see you are getting restless. Would you like us to stop?

D: That would be fine. But before that, I want you to understand that there is sense in everything. Nothing exists by accident or plainly by itself. There is a thought, a vibration-form behind every single thing or creature.

A: Man-made things prove that we are also able to materialise our thoughts.

D: Correct. Unfortunately humans do not create good and useful things exclusively.

A: Can animals disturb the Matrix?

D: Nope. They are connected to the central sphere and that is governed by protecting entities that will not let that happen.

A: How is this different in humans?

D: There is a major difference between humans and animals. Humans are similar to God in that man can create with a thought-form.

A: So certain thought-forms such as inventions might have existed in the Matrix long before the 'inventors' accessed them and came up with the idea?

D: Yes, something like that. Some ideas were thought of long before they had got finally realised. Take the case of the aeroplane, for example. First it was created in the minds of people who wanted to fly like birds many thousands of years before our time. Everyone who had ever fantasized about flying added their energy to this thought, then one day a person finally harmonised to that particular wavelength that enabled him to develop the project.

A: Are there any thoughts that come from God?

D: None. Thoughts in the Earth's segment are created by humans. There are other thought-forms created by entities of other levels, too.

A: I do not understand I'm afraid.

D: Suppose the Inuakis decide to teach humans how to utilise light beams of crystals for metalworking. There are two ways to go about it; either by sending an incarnate who is permitted to access the memory bank of Inua's Matrix segment, or they send a thought-form to the Matrix segment of Earth, the latter being more common.

D: Does this mean that you, who has access to the details of life on Inua, have actually come to bring us something special?

A: That‘s right. I would like to tell you about it next time, though.

SESSION IV.

A: Let‘s talk about how and why you came to Earth. Did you choose the place and your parents?

D: Not really. They were one of the few possible choices in that moment…an opportunity that came by.

A: So you inhabited the body of a fetus and you were born?

D: I was not born.

A: I thought you were born. How else could you have come?

D: It is a bit complicated. The parents bore a child after a normal course of pregnancy, nine months after conception. Unfortunately the infant was born weak and his soul was destined to leave the Earth plane. His life's program was to die so I came and took his place.

A: I don’t get it. Can you be a bit more precise?

D: Their son, David was born in this world to die. According to his life program he was to leave at six months of age. Then a decision was made in the Matrix that I would come through and live in the body he was to leave behind.

A: How come the parents failed to realise that their child was gone?

D: Because I was there in David's body.

A: You said your arrival was decided upon.

D: The child was very susceptible to illnesses. He had had a cold the whole time and one day his mother found him in bed in a coma. She rushed to hospital with the baby, but the doctors could not bring him back to life. His heart had stopped and his soul departed from his body. At that point I moved into the vacant body. The doctors thought they managed to resuscitate him but it was me who woke. He had left.

A: And they did not notice a thing?

D: No, there was no way to figure it out. It was the same body.

A: Did you enter the body fully conscious of your identity?

D: I was aware of who I was at the moment of entry. My consciousness had gradually disappeared, however, and as much as I tried to keep it alive, the biological time frame and bodily functions did not permit expressing my true self. Finally I forgot everything and I had to go through the stages of development just like other human beings.

A: Why?

D: To accommodate the vibration of the place and of humans. It was necessary to learn and understand human mentality and their way of life.

A: You have lost a lot of time, then!

D: Not at all. I have experienced the bliss and brightness of Christmas, which is my favourite celebration. Mother said that an angel would come and I was so excited I just could not sleep. That was the time I started to ask myself questions in my head and somebody actually answered me. I needed some time to understand what was happening. The hardest part of it was that my parents did not want to hear a word about this voice and forbade me to talk about it to anyone. Even my friend, Vladut called me weird and said that unless I stopped talking crazy he would not play with me again.

A: Did you make contact with Aghton that way?

D: He contacted me first. He told me that they had watched me the whole time and only got in touch with me once my bond with Earth had stabilised.

A: Why?

D: There was a chance of me suddenly remembering who I had previously been and wanting to leave.

A: It must have been a hard time for you.

D: It was, but I know I have a mission to accomplish here.

A: Did Aghton tell you about Inua?

D: He did not. It was like watching a movie in my mind. I saw my time on Inua from my birth to the time I departed from the planet, just like you watch something on a TV screen. I saw Inua's history and by re-living my life there I regained the lost knowledge I had previously gathered. When something was unclear to me, Aghton would answer me in pictures, and with sounds and vibrations.

A: Did you die on Inua so you could come here?

D: I didn't die, I moved to another level of existence by consciously braking down my body and then waited for the right moment to come here.

A: So the parents were chosen, actually.

D: It was a last minute decision.

A: You said you had waited out the right moment.

D: That is true, only I was intended for another couple. They were young and followed an esoteric tradition that originated from a major school of mysticism. So the girl was to become pregnant and birth me. That way I would have received real support and under such optimum circumstances I could have come out earlier.

A: Did they change their mind about having a baby?

D: They did. I was planned and I had even started the process of connecting to the fetal body but the mother-to-be changed her mind and had an abortion.

A: Was she not told that you were a special soul with helpers guiding you?

D: She was told but she considered herself too young to become a mother. They even sent her dreams and impulses but her fear did not let her understand them. In fact fear and hatred are the only two human emotions that can cut us off from knowing and evolving.

A: Could you not wait for some time?

D: No, I could not stay in the Matrix for long. If I had stayed longer, I would have disintegrated or reborn as an Inuaki. Therefore I took David's place.

A: So you are saying that there is a limited period of time one can spend in the Matrix.

D: Absolutely. In special cases of incarnation your traits and memories stick with you, although after a certain length of time this energy package might start to have a disharmonious effect on you.

A: What happened to David's soul?

D: It has returned to the Matrix and now awaits another opportunity to come back.

A: Is this fair on him in your opinion?

D: It is, because he got to a higher level than he was at beforehand.

A: How is that?

D: The life program he came here to do has been left with the body that I took over from him.

A: Did you inherit his karma with the body?

D: Not really. I think you have a different understanding of the concept of karma. I took a lot of the disturbance he has left in the Matrix in the past, but only those issues that he brought here to resolve in this lifetime, the rest of which remains in the Matrix segment he is staying in now. He will deal with the unresolved issues when he decides to do so.

A: Does this mean that you need to resolve the problems he has created?

D: I do.

A: Even bearing the consequences of his acts, including possibly serious future health problems?

A: I am capable to overcome such things because I work with a mixture of what he has left behind and what I have brought with me. Anyway, every problem can be resolved if you know how.

A: Of course, if you know.

D: And we do know. The problem is that humans often evade finding solutions.

A: Would you describe the incarnation process to me?

D: It is the opposite of what we call death, where the sphere of your essence links to the new body. It branches out in the body by entering at the top of the skull and surging into the spine, then into the heart and the stomach and fills the head and limbs, in this order. Finally the whole body gets a sort of light boost that comes from the energy field of the Matrix, which can be likened to a lightning strike in its colour and strength. Basically it's a short and intense flash. After this you feel your body your own. You sense pain, hunger and all the rest, and from then on you can control the body and put it to your own use. But as I have said earlier, I had limited control over my new body because the brain contained the knowledge and experiences of a six months old infant.

A: What about an incarnation in which the entity inherits the body of a grown up? Is that possible?

D: Yes, it is. In that case the entity gets the advantages of having an adult's body and he or she is able to do much more.

A: Meaning that one can self-activate their consciousness?

D: No. The newly arrived entity needs to adapt to the new body as well as to the vibration of the habitat and to the pulse of Earth.

A: This would cause amnesia. He would have no recollections, never mind recognise his own family and friends.

D: Not at all. He would remember everything the host body encountered during its life up to that point because the information of our current life is stored in the head as well as in the Matrix. Actions are deciphered and stored by the Matrix as energy-thought-forms. So are experiences and emotions, for that matter.

A: Does this type of incarnation affect the Matrix?

D: Yes, it creates disturbance of a different sort, if only in the Matrix segment the soul belongs to. Experiences and emotions ensure the correct functioning of the body. The body is essentially an Earth vehicle that is full of energy and it's powered by food as much as it is powered by experiences.

A: What happens when the entity realises that the body he now owns hasn't always been his own?

D: Depends on his ability to adapt to the new circumstances. He does not necessarily realise it first, only once his vibration synchronises with the vibration of Earth.

A: Do you think there are many of those souls on Earth?

D: I do not know for sure. I only know that there are ten of us here from Inua.

A: Did you all arrive at the same time?

D: No, at different times. I came third.

A: Are the others aware of their origin?

D: Aghton says he can communicate with me and seven others.

A: What could have happened to the other two?

D: The incarnation process failed. There are certain risks involved.

A: No chance for their recovery?

D: Nope.

A: And how long do they stay here for?

D: They are only able to depart once their body dies and that time comes when their program terminates.

A: Is there anything that can be done about it?

D: Nothing. Rules must be kept to. Everything happens according to a certain logic.

A: Why did these accidents happen?

D: As much as I know, taking up the body took too long for one of them and the shortage of oxygen supply caused brain damage. The other one suffered an accident when the soul that originally lived in the body changed his mind and decided to stay while the new entity has also connected to the host body. The same body is now inhabited by two souls, which causes a lot of uncontrollable havoc in the system.

A: How come these mishaps weren't prevented?

D: There was no way of knowing that the entity would object to the Law.

A: What happened to the others?

D: They are well and have started their communication and everything is fine. One of them is even more advanced than myself for he can enjoy support from both parents.

A: What do they do for a living?

D: They are researchers and members of the Rosicrucian Order, so they belong to higher esoteric circles.

D: Is that not some sort of satanic sect?

A: No. True, there are lines within the organisation that put personal goals and wealth before altruistic efforts. The couple I am talking about is definitely not like that, though.

A: Do they live in Romania?

D: No, I am the only one here. Out of those who successfully incarnated in a human body there are three persons in America, one of them lives in France, one in China and one in Germany.

A: That adds up to seven, including you. What about the eighth person?

D: The person in question is in a special place Aghton cannot tell you.

A: Have I been talking to Aghton?

D: Yes, for the most part.

A: Why did they choose to be so spread out?

D: The order of placing us was defined by taking into consideration the importance of the upcoming events.

A: I figure we will not have a lot of things happening here, neither will the French or the Chinese.

D: There is not so much to be done in Romania. Things will happen peacefully here.

A: Why?

D: The beings that once lived on this land were very advanced and they have left the generations to come with a special kind of energy field that contains highly valuable information. This information will be revealed at a specific time, granting access to answers we have been longing to know about human evolution. Answers that for the most part have been kept hidden from us, or just plainly lied about.

A: Can you give me an example?

D: I cannot because this is not my purpose.

A: Do we have to wait for long before this 'treasure chest' opens up for us?

D: Not really. Some have already been using the information and even sharing it with others.

A: How come the public knows nothing about it?

D: It is out there but most people are not interested or take it for a fairy tale.

A: Had these beings lived all across Romania?

D: Mostly in the middle of the present territory of Romania. There lies an information bank of great importance, somewhere up in the mountains.

A: And nobody knows about this?

D: Aghton says that many people know but keep it quiet. Some people have even been in there.

A: This is so typical of Romanians. If you hear something you are not supposed to know about then you are considered grossly misguided, yet others tell you that you must have either misunderstood it or you just have not reached that level of spirituality where you can possibly comprehend its true meaning.

D: The time is coming when everyone will find out about it.

A: What else can you say about our land?

D: This is the only country with seven active chakras.

A: Unlike other countries?

D: Exactly. The Earth has seven energy centres on its surface and none of the other countries have their own seven energy centres. This is why certain negative impulses and organisations have tried to gain control over Romania.

A: Can you tell me where the Earth's chakras are located?

D: In California, South-America, Australia, England, Egypt, Iran, and in Tibet.

A: And the ones in Romania?

D: Near Felsoszombatfalva (Sambata de Sus, County Brasov); the Radnai-havasok (Muntii Rodnei); Szilagysomlyo (Simleu Silvaniei); Capidava; Varhely (Sarmizegetusa); the Paring Mountains and up in the Geta Sub-Carpathians, although not in this order. They cannot be located more precisely for they are not hundred percent active.

[Translator's note: The original Hungarian names of the above-listed localities are followed by their current Romanian place names in brackets, see Treaty of Trianon]

A: Can you say something about the Bucegi Mountains?

D: This special piece of information is actually present both in the Bucegi Mountains and in Ceahlau. You may even spot something if you pay attention because there is some sort energy build-up of tetrahedral shape in those particular spots. They appear to be holographic images for now and will gain visual clarity with the coming of some significant events.

A: What are those tetrahedrons for?

D: They protect the land from energetic attacks and transmit thought-forms that provide protection and harness spiritual development. These energy centres are for raising the vibration of the land and its people alike.

A: Are these energy centres any similar to the ones that operate the human body?

D: They are the same, really with a colour and function identical to the bodily ones.

A: What kind of functions?

D: Setting and overseeing the optimal functioning of the planet just like the chakras of living creatures maintain the optimal functioning of the living body. Humans have the same number of chakras as the Earth does because the body's vibration must match the vibrational speed of the planet it lives on.

A: What about the chakras of Romania?

D: They were activated in 1986 and will reach their maximum efficiency in 2011.

A: What is their role?

D: All I can say is this land is as old as Earth herself. The first Earth creatures were created here and from here they have spread across the globe. This country will play a highly important role in the forthcoming years when the collective psyche that our ancestors left us with will fill the hearts of survivors.

A: Survive?

D: Yes, for we will be without protection. It is good in a way, though. Not everyone is ready to proceed to a new level of existence, but I am not entitled to talk about this.

A: Can you actually foresee any challenging events happening on a global level for the next year?

D: There will be problems.

A: What kind of problems?

D: Water related ones, but I am not suppose to even know about it.

A: Will Romania be affected by it?

D: The problems will be mostly of financial nature here. Romania may face major economic challenges and perhaps an earthquake, too.

A: Can you go into details?

D: Let's stop for today.

I ask David to let me talk to his mum before they leave. I learn from her that the child was born extremely sensitive indeed. I am told that David struggled with a constant cold for the first six months of his life and endured a severe case of pneumonia, worsened by his intolerance to antibiotics that peaked in clinical death. She tells me that he was resuscitated twice and how she considers his full recovery a shear miracle. According to her, David has not encountered any major illnesses since that time.

I escort her to the door and say bye to her. She pauses for a second and then turns to me, whispering: 'I have such a weird feeling, you know but I do not want you to think that I am crazy. When he was brought back to life and opened his eyes I had the impression that this was not my boy! I turned to the priest who performed exorcist rituals on him...Do you think the devil has him possessed?' Just as I open my mouth to reply her, she cuts me off, saying: 'Please do not answer. I am not ready to find out whether I live with a monster in my home.'

After their departure I stand there for a long time, lost in thought. I am in a quandary whether or not I should make her listen to the recordings. Finally, I decide to check with David first.

SESSION V.

A: Do you want to talk about something in particular?

D: Not really. I would rather you asked me. Aghton instructed me to tell you that six or so rituals were performed on me in different places to chase the devil out of me. Mother wanted me to tell the priests certain things but then she changed her mind for she realised how it would wedge a gap between me and my family. Some of the priests were not what they seemed.

A: What do you mean by that? Were they not actual priests?

D: They were priests who do not live according to their own personal beliefs.

A: Have you heard the saying, 'Do as the priest says, not what he does.'?

D: I haven't. You need to do and say whatever feels right and true. Let your experiences, your vibration stand as an example for others. You, as the child of Earth, are called to testify by your beliefs. Why in the world would you convince others of things you do not believe in?

A: Because there are certain behavioural patterns and moral rules to keep to.

D: Right. Then these should be only preached by those truly believing in them.

A: Okay. Let us go back to the chakras. I wonder if the Inuakis also have seven chakras.

D: They have ten, actually. Beside the seven being similar to the ones we have on Earth, they also have three other chakras located on top of each other above their head.

A: You mean these seven chakras we share are energetically the same?

D: They are not.

A: In what way are they different?

D: We have seven chakras here, on Earth with seven corresponding layers of energy field surrounding our bodies that have the same colour as the chakras. You may picture them as concentric spheres placed inside one another.

A: We call these bio-energy fields.

D: Quite right, although these biofields apply to Earth creatures only. Inuakis do not have such a thing anymore. They used to have them a long time ago, before their planet made the quantum leap but then those layers transformed into perfect energy spheres of golden colour.

A: What kind of a role does such a sphere perform?

D: It helps to create and maintain the body's balance. Also, it facilitates communication by expanding to a size that reaches the person you wish to talk with. This sphere activates the Mer-Ka-Ba field, as well. Everything happens by the aid of this sphere, really.

A: Will we get such a perfect sphere once we are transformed by this quantum leap?

D: Should do. This time round a new thing is tried on us though.

A: In other words?

D: Humans will attempt to make the leap while staying in the flesh.

A: Did the Inuakis keep their body during the transformation?

D: Only the shape of their body, which became lighter and more powerful. Their whole planet has undergone change structurally as well as energetically. Here, on Earth it is planned to keep our bodies if possible by changing its energy so the people living today get the chance to retain their current body. In other words the human body tries to preserve its molecular build-up except for the DNA, which becomes modified. At present only one quarter of the human DNA codes are active, the rest of them are actually inactive.

A: What is the significance of activating the dormant DNA codes?

D: Once the full DNA sequence is activated, the human body can retain light, vibration, sound and information from the Matrix. We will be linked to the pulse and breathing of the whole Universe this way and the human race will start living in harmony with the rest of the Universe. You ought to see the DNA transmitting light, sound and vibration.

A: Pulse of the Universe?

D: The Universe has a pulse, a certain vibration it sends the galaxy, which the Earth harmonises with. In a human body the head receives this vibration first and sends it to the heart, which distributes it in the whole body. This is how it has been happening, although the partially blocked DNA is only able to receive a quarter of the intended vibration at present.

A: Do you only have quarter of your DNA active, too?

D: I have almost 70% DNA activity. I am not the only one though, there are many others with a more active DNA.

A: Why is it not activating in everyone?

D: Because not everyone will make the quantum leap. It is no use to activate it in those who are not coming with us. If they entered the Matrix activated, they would cause serious perturbation in their Matrix segment, as well as suffering to themselves. Therefore, they need to stay in the Matrix until a similar event occurs on another planet. This is for their own good; otherwise during a single lifetime they would have to deal with every harmful thought-forms they had previously sent their own Matrix segment.

A: And when will the DNA become fully active in those who stay here?

D: Following the quantum leap. The genetic code begins activation beforehand, although it will reach maximum activity only after the leap will have happened.

A: Why?

D: The planet will reach stability after the leap. The Earth is suffering right now. She is torn by opposing forces and energies.

A: What do you mean by that?

D: Did you know that the only vibrations that matter really are of loathing and love? Every other emotion derives from one of these two.

A: A human being experiences the full range of emotions during their lifetime.

D: It is time to decide which way we want to go. At this point in human evolution we directly experience whatever we emit because Earth does not take in anything from us anymore but she returns the whole load we have generated in this lifetime. The same process is happening in the Matrix, which is a sort of general cleansing, if you like.

A: Maybe this explains the high rate of illnesses.

D: Possibly.

A: How can people rid themselves of negativity?

D: In order to let go of your negative thoughts or feelings you need to learn humility, face the baggage of negative emotions and learn to transform them into love.

A: What if you are afraid of dogs, for instance? There is nothing you can do about that.

D: Yes, you can. Learn to love them. Talk to the sphere of the species every evening and send the Matrix thoughts of love and forgiveness, also offer your help. You can do the same to everything else you may resent. Identify everything that makes you feel negative and by bringing it to a conscious level you can then transform it into love and light. Only then can you accommodate this energy.

A: Is that a new or special kind of energy?

D: It is the female energy.

A: We already have the female energy.

D: But for the most part it has not been manifested. Mother Earth has been governed by the male energy for a long time. This will soon change and so feminine and masculine energies will be represented in equal measures.

A: I guess it must be a good thing. I can see what is happening to Earth under masculine governance.

D: It certainly is a good thing, for the combined energies will balance out the vibrations and energy field of Earth, and finally reach a sort of equilibrium.

A: Two opposing forces that are equal in strength are known to neutralise the effect of one another.

D: Which is desirable. It brings balance and perfection.

A: There had been times when women were the leaders, actually.

D: Sure. Then men took over, followed by women and succeeded by men once again. There were four such cycles and now we enter the fifth. Every period corresponds to an Earth cycle.

A: Of what sort?

D: First there was the cycle of fire, then of soil, then of air and now we live in the cycle of water.

A: What comes next?

D: We will be soon entering the cycle of ether. I think of the ether phase as a state of the Matrix, and as there is balance within the Matrix, there must be a balance here as well.

A: Tell me, had these cycles been planned?

D: Everything is planned and it follows a certain logic. In the Universe nothing ever happens without a reason.

A: Is that so? What kind of logic?

D: All is governed by universal laws that derive from love.

A: Do you mean love, as we know the term here on Earth?

D: What is called love here is only a small part of the thought-form of love stored in the Matrix. Love cannot be fully realised in you while you are here.

A: Can you explain?

D: Universal Love is the combination of harmony, peace, contentment, respect, understanding, being at peace with ourselves, and silence, too. Something like that.

A: Wow, there is a long way until then!

D: On the contrary, we are almost there.

A: I should not think that people are ready to give up on their old habits that quickly.

D: A new kind of consciousness, a new perspective opens up to those who stay here. They will be automatically connected to the new energy and information that, in turn, begins to transform them from the inside.

A: How will this manifest energetically?

D: By the opening of the chakras, which from then on will be working on full capacity and with optimum parameters. The three new ones above the head start activation the moment the crown chakra reaches maximum efficiency, although these will become activated in stages. Once the first disc reaches half of its maximum capacity, the second one begins activation and the third one starts activating when the first one is completed and the second is halfway active. When the second one completes activation, the third one is halfway through the process.

A: When does the third one reach full activation?

D: Depends on the individual. Some get it activated quicker, while others a bit slower. Only then will the golden sphere activate, the one that Inuakis have.

A: Will there be any differences in the way people function?

D: Nope. The activation of the golden sphere will occur simultaneously in everyone. The initiation process depends on the vibrational level of Earth as he activating sign only be given by the Matrix will once humans and the Earth get their frequencies synchronised.

A: Can you imagine a scenario in which some individuals can never fully activate this sphere?

D: That is impossible. You need to understand that we are talking about energy here. The level of reception varies individually, of course.

A: Could it take as long as a hundred years in your estimate?

D: No, definitely less than that.

A: How much time do you think is needed for this synchronising of energies at most?

D: Maybe three years in current time line.

A: You keep saying 'current time'. How else shall we measure time?

D: There will be no time at all.

A: So we can soon forget counting the hours and minutes, no keeping track of time anymore?

D: That is right.

A: How can people keep track of their own age if we stopped counting the years?

D: You will not have an age tag, either. Please know that time, as a concept is a product of our current way of thinking. The Universe is ageless. It simply exists. Time is expressed as a linearity where you start in point A and finish in point B. In the Universe wherever you are, you are there – no need to start off and end up anywhere.

A: There must be a point of reference in our lives.

D: For humans that will be the heartbeat of the Universe.

A: You told me that you count the rotation of your planet so Inuakis must be measuring the passing of time in some way.

D: Yes, the rotation speed of Inua is defined by the pulsation of the Universe. Inua functions as a sort of heart of the Matrix and it rotates in perfect harmony with the pulse of the Universe in the same way our hearts beat.

A: Is Inua the heart of the Matrix then?

D: One of the hearts of the Matrix, if you like. Every planet who completes the quantum leap becomes a sort of heart. Such planets harmonise the pulsing of the Universe and work with it in unison.

A: You said earlier that we attempt to make the leap in body. Why?

D: Because it is unprecedented, it has not been done before. The time has now come to try this, like everything else in the Universe.

A: And it is our turn this time?

D: You can say that.

A: Did this leap happen the same way on every planet that has made it?

D: No, every planet had something different, like a new element, added to it.

A: Did you come here to experience the quantum leap?

D: No, I was sent here like the other Inuakis to explain you certain things so more of you can do the leap with your planet. We are here to raise consciousness on the mass level and a thing like that can only be possibly done by the work of messengers.

A: You mean by foretelling the events that will follow?

D: No, I mean that I need to make humans realise who they really are, where they come from, whom they are led by and where their place in the Universe is.

A: And who are we?

D: (speaking in a different tone of voice) I am Aghton and I came to tell you that you are light beings. You are children of the Matrix, maybe the most perfect of it. You encompass every element of the Matrix on a vibrational and an energetic level likewise. You represent superiority, perfection, the infinite, therefore you are to express yourselves in that way. You have been created by the pulse of the Universe, by the breath of the Creator and by the will of God. You are his children who possess his abilities, potential and authority. Now you have the chance to take part in conscious creating, to become Co-creators! Wake up!

On hearing the last word I watch David fall back on the couch. I hurry over but before I can touch him he opens his eyes and says the following:

'Sorry, I felt a strong current overflowing my body and I suddenly got unwell.'

I give him a glass of water without mentioning that his last few sentences were told in a different tone of voice. I look into his blue eyes and wonder how many secrets of the Universe may hide beyond the eyes of this seven-year-old child.

'I suggest we stop for today', I tell him, and so we did.

SESSION VI.

A: During our last meeting you told me that you have come here with a message. Can you tell me what it is?

D: Of course. First I would like to tell you a few things about Inua, though.

A: Sure, go ahead.

D: It was quite some time ago, may have been some 800,000 years if measured in Earth years, when Inua was a planet similar to Earth. It was inhabited by primitive creatures that vaguely resembled today's Inuakis. They were not intelligent and lacked the abilities Inuakis have today. Nonetheless, they recognised that their soil was rich in minerals, crystals and silica and they also had pure water and air. Unfortunately they were targeted by galactic conquerors for the same reasons. At one point a small craft similar to the ones Inuakis use now landed on Inua. The craft was operated by two very advanced creatures of aggressive nature. The beings analysed the soil, took samples and left with two Inuaki children. The natives were impressed by their craft and the scientific devices left in the soil and so they took the visitors for supernatural beings. These devices might be likened to aerials in their appearance, to which these primitive inhabitants actually began to pay ritual respect. A long time had passed after this encounter and after maybe two generations...Is something unclear?

A: Did the Inuakis have the same lifespan as they do today?

D: Definitely not. The oldest of them must have been forty or fifty years of age, expressed in Earth years.

A: How about Inua? Did it look the same as today? I mean in terms of topography, climate and such factors.

D: Inua was subjected to weather extremities and short but very powerful storms. As much as I know, they also had severely cold winters back then. The mountains, hills and plains underwent geological changes since.

A: How about other dangers to life? Were there carnivorous animals or plants?

D: The biggest source of danger, some sort of giant crocodiles, lived in water and came ashore every now and then, and devastated the populace. The natives therefore got use to sleeping on tall cliffs or trees. They made huts in treetops from creeper plants and spent the nights up there.

A: Did they keep animals?

D: Yes.

A: For eating?

D: Yes, they ate them.

A: Did they also cook or roast their food?

D: They used fire but they could not light it. Instead they used the few known natural spots of fire in the ground.

A: What else did they eat?

D: Row vegetables that they picked and ate uncooked. They had no cooking pots and made their weapons out of stones, wood and plant matter, mostly.

A: What did they drink?

D: Water.

A: Seawater?

D: No, spring water. They were afraid to approach the seashores and the seawater was undrinkable anyway.

A: How come they lived for such a short time?

D: Most often they got killed or had a fatal accident. Illnesses and fights were also common back then.

A: Fighting over what?

D: They lived in isolated clans of some sort and when two or more clans met they fought each other.

A: Were there any leaders?

D: The oldest person was always the leader, succeeded by the oldest suitor alive upon his death.

A: Did they live in monogamous relationships?

D: No, they could be with anyone within the group.

A: I see.

D: As I said two generations had passed before the return of those advanced creatures.

A: I have one more question. What did those visitors from space look like?

D: They had similar features to today's Inuakis only their skin was dark gray and their eyes were ash gray. These creatures had a similar body plan except for the large greenish-brown spiky projections along their spine. Also, they had a course skin and a typical smell.

A: What kind of smell?

D: A peculiar smell, something like the mixture of sulphur and mice.

A: Were they benevolent?

D: They made a very good impression at first by putting up a trustworthy attitude and being accompanied by beings similar to Inuakis of that era. The natives failed to recognise that these familiar beings were the very descendants of the two kidnapped native children, the meeting of the two species thus went smoothly. The new race had brought technological advancements to Inua, gave the natives some simple to more complex machines and trained them up on their use. Moreover, they showed the different uses of fire and picked a few natives to teach them leadership. The newcomers placed thin discs on the head of every newborn and dubbed those aerials. Also, they slaughtered the marine beasts to enable ground activities. The native offspring being born different after the colonisation escaped the Inuakis' attention. The new generation were very similar to the older natives except for being way more agile – they could do much more than their elders.

A: Why?

D: The newcomers merged their genes with the natives' genetic material and transplanted the resulting genome in the new generation of natives.

A: What was their intention?

D: They needed skilled and reliable workers who were able to work with the technology they had brought.

A: What were they after, actually?

D: Gold, crystals and certain minerals.

A: To what end?

D: To transport it home for building spacecrafts, and for reproductive purposes.

A: Who were these creatures, in fact?

D: They were called Anunnakis and came from the Draco constellation.

A: Did this hybridisation program prove to be a success?

D: It was in a way because Inuakis developed as a result. They began to evolve and to have a better understanding of things, started building their homes aboveground and founded cities.

A: Had everyone undergone changes?

D: The few remaining isolated clans were wiped out by the Anunnakis because of their aggressive disposal.

A: Did their lifespan grow as a result of the genetic engineering?

D: Inuakis survived for longer mainly due to the decline in risk factors. There were no more fights or murders and their diet became more varied because the newcomers trained them how to farm the land. Some work accidents still happened, but rarely. The only problem was that from time to time some of the Inuakis disappeared. Anunnakis told the community that these individuals were special hence taken to a more advanced place. They planted the concept of the higher leaders and gods in the natives' mind.

A: Like some sort of religion?

D: Yes, but it was a false religion. It was easy to mislead the Inuakis as they had heard from their ancestors that Anunnaki visitations in the past left them with some sort of protecting equipment.

A: And how long did the colonisation last?

D: For about 30,000 years. During this period they had lived quietly on the planet.

A: What happened next?

D: One day an Inuaki took off the disc from his head that was placed on him at birth. First he only used to remove it when there were no Anunnakis around. As a result, after some time he started to realise the true nature of his masters – he even began to recognise their vibe and smell, too. Once he even witnessed them eating an Inuaki.

A: How did they eat the Inuaki?

D: Just ate him during a ritual.

A: What kind of a ritual?

D: They tied two strings attached to a large crystal to a metal circle. Then they turned the Inuaki upside down and slit his throat, collected his blood in a container and everyone of them drank from it. Later on the flesh of the sacrifice was cut up and eaten, and his remains were eventually tossed into the sea.

A: It sounds like they were evil.

D: They were certainly very evil. We know more about them now. These creatures are negative beings that come and colonise, kill, steal the riches of the ground, pollute the planet, and finally leave in search of another place, acting just like locusts, really.

A: Why do they live this way?

D: Their planet is poor in minerals and is currently inhabitable. These individuals therefore must secure the survival of their species for which crystals are needed because their ships are made with gold alloys and silica. As they cannot kill each other, they need to search for food somewhere else.

A: Are they strictly carnivorous?

D: Yes, they only eat flesh...but in truth, they need the experience to recharge themselves, so to say.

A: Experiencing what?

D: The excitement generated at the moment of death, which is trapped by the crystals used for this purpose. The Anunnakis take up this vibration by touching the crystal.

A: Excitement generated at the moment of death?

D: The energy discharge is very strong at the moment of death, as strong as at the moment of birth. Anunnakis harvest the energy and use it when needed.

A: What is this energy used for, exactly?

D: They use it as a nourishment of vital life energy. You need to understand that these creatures are unable to experience any kind of positive energy. They do not know love. In fact, they isolate themselves from love. They are the darkest creatures of the Universe. This race is in lack of a conscience, do not experience guilt or pity, and feel indifferent to wrong-doings. The only thing that matters to them is the survival of their species.

A: Do they still live on Inua?

D: No, they had left a long time ago. They stayed on Inua for a total of 200,000 years, though.

A: You said they lived there for about 30,000 years.

D: The initial period of slavery had lasted for 30,000 years, at which point the Inuakis rebelled against their oppressors. Severe fights broke out and there were major losses on both sides. Finally the situation appeared to resolve as the Anunnakis decided to leave. It was a con though: they pretended to leave the planet but instead – with the help of a few Inuaki traitors – they built underground facilities and moved below the surface. There they remained for almost 200,000 years and secretly carried on managing the planet in the same way as before.

A: And the Inuakis didn't notice a thing?

D: Not a thing. They actually elected the traitor Inuakis for leaders, who continued to serve Anunnaki interests.

A: They must have died at one point.

D: Their offspring took over from them, who were trained up specifically for this purpose.

A: Did they build palaces of some sort on Inua like the ones we have on Earth?

D: Sure. This is a prevailing form in the Matrix.

A: Why did you all choose to live like this?

D: Because we accepted the situation universally. If you accept something and so do others, then you all link your intention to the Matrix segment it was created in, which responds by enabling the thought to manifest.

A: So how did you finally get them to leave?

D: At one point a change in the vibrational level of Inua occurred, not before many enslaved generations had passed, though. This new energy level did not allow Anunnakis to remain on the planet. They simply had no choice but leave.

A: Where to?

D: They sought out other planets with suitable atmospheric conditions, inhabitants and minerals for their purposes.

A: So Inuaki genes have incorporated Anunnaki genes ever since?

D: Indeed. They carry Anunnaki DNA in their own genetic material. Inuakis needed a further thousand years after the energy leap to get rid of the negative influences completely.

A: I am under the impression that they have reverted to being positive again.

D: They have, which means anyone can change for the better, should they choose to.

A: Had the Inuakis discovered their true identity prior to the energy leap?

D: Only some of them. Life was organised in a certain way, so the truth was kept hidden by those Inuakis loyal to their tyrants. Anyone who dared questioning the system was either murdered or underwent treatment to break down their will and resistance. Clearly, the structure of society was constructed invincible.

A: So today's Inuakis are a cross between ancient Inuakis and the Anunnakis, right?

D: That's right.

A: In other words Inuakis partly owe their progress to the Anunnaki's intervention.

D: Absolutely. They developed as a species due to genetic impact of the Anunnakis.

A: Anunnakis are still the more advanced race though, aren't they?

D: They were more advanced in many ways mainly due to their high intelligence. Not only did they possess highly advanced technology, but also used telepathy as a means of communication from long distances and were able to manipulate thoughts.

A: Something you would call 'paranormal' in today's term.

D: Exactly.

A: The crossbreeding must have left the Inuakis with some of these extra abilities.

D: It certainly did. The Anunnakis tried to eliminate or suppress these newly gained abilities among the natives by poisoning their water, soil and air.

A: Using what?

D: Substances that hinder these abilities to such a degree that they actually manifested only after the quantum leap.

A: But you said that Inuakis developed as a result of the Anunnaki invasion.

D: Yeah?

A: Without them Inua would not be the same today, then.

D: Naturally, not.

A: This suggests that the colonisation was predestined somehow and it was essential for the development of the planet.

D: Yes, the Anunnakis must have a purpose, too. There is not a single useless feature in the whole Universe.

A: Do they represent an ancient species?

D: They belong to the first group of entities ever to have appeared.

A: Are they from the Matrix, too?

D: Everything originates from the Matrix and eventually returns to it.

A: Anunnakis have their own segment in the Matrix as you said. What happened to the Inuakis after being introduced to Anunnaki genes, did they return to the Anunnakis' segment on their death?

D: No, they remained in the Matrix segment of Inua. Planets and entities retain their characteristics.

A: How about those Inuakis who were killed prior to the gene mutation?

D: They have returned to the segment of Inua where they reincarnated from and took up the genetic build-up of the Anunnakis.

A: Meaning that you cannot leave the Matrix segment you belong to, no matter how advanced you personally are?

D: That's it. It's either everyone or no-one.

A: According to religious teachings our saints have returned to God.

D: They went to the Matrix segment of Earth, and from there they either reincarnate or stay there as leaders. The latter happens to an entity after all his or her lessons have been learnt and proven by deeds.

A: So normally no matter how advanced you as an individual are, you can only move to a new Matrix segment as part of a group?

D: That's correct, for we are one with our planet. We can only evolve together.

A: What happens if the majority of people evolve spiritually and the rest do not?

D: If we talk about Earth specifically – who is preparing for major changes – then it looks a little different to a normal scenario. It is a rare phenomenon when a celestial body executes a leap and it requires many thousands of years of preparation time. During this phase people enter the Matrix and reincarnate from it again, while constantly absorbing different vibrations, living at different parts of the planet and experience all kinds of emotional states.

Now suppose we are prepared for the quantum leap on the Matrix level. Incompatible individuals will return to the Matrix and remain there until the leap happens and the situation becomes stabile. Once the new conditions stabilise, it will be decided who gets the chance to return to Earth. The rest of the entities will be sent to a segment specifically created for them and here they'll meet souls from all kinds of segments with whom they are compatible. They will all merge and create a new unit within the Matrix.

A: Do they start all over again?

D: They do.

A: Will they reincarnate?

D: Yes, on a new planet.

A: Just like here, where you are normally unaware of past lives?

D: Exactly. This is the Law of the Matrix.

A: The Inuakis' minds were also wiped clean, weren't they?

D: Naturally. As I said, that is the Law.

A: So people who fail to comply with the majority's will are actually bound to leave us?

D: There may be some who will not comply with minority will.

A: Meaning?

D: The planet is making a leap and humans must do the same. There is no way around it. Anyone who is unprepared will be automatically removed from the segment.

A: You said the majority decides what happens!

D: Yes, I did. This is a special case though, a rare occurrence. The entire planet is being watched attentively because the physical body of humans would be kept during the leap for the first time in the history of the Universe.

A: How come the Inuakis did not keep their bodies?

D: They did keep it as a form, although somewhat altered, compared to its original structure and density. The head has undergone modification, as well. They have become different in essence despite retaining their appearance.

A: Are we going to look the same as we do now, you reckon?

D: Yes, that is the plan.

A: And if it fails?

D: No-one knows this but God himself. If it fails, then it was suppose to go that way by the will of God.

A: What happens to Earth if things go that way?

D: Then Earth will cease to exist, just like the rest of the solar system. I doubt it would fall through, though. Planets of our solar system are changing as we speak; they are making preparations, too. Preparing for nothing would be an enormous waste of energy, which the Matrix does not support. Think about the millions of years the planet needed for reaching this state. Why would she make all this effort to get to a place where all is over? There is logic in every happening in the Universe. Nothing gets lost in it.

A: Still, there is a small chance of things going wrong, isn't there?

D: Of course. I believe it will go just fine, though.

A: Let's hope.

D: I would like to stop for now. I am going to talk about the Earth next time.

SESSION VII.

A: You wanted to talk about Earth today.

D: Yes. I want to tell you that the colonisation of Inua and everything about it has happened here on Earth, too.

A: And whom had we been colonised by?

D: Again, by the Anunnakis. A spacecraft landed here about 500,000 Earth years ago. Its pilots took soil and water samples and left, only to return along with other ships some time later to settle down on the planet with the same purpose; extracting resources. They had even brought Inuakis from Inua to work for them because that seemed easier than training the Earth's population to use their advanced technology. However, Inuaki labour proved to be unsatisfactory, and on the top of it they denied working and caused riots. Humans were then forced to work for the Anunnakis in an attempt to replace some of the workforce. However, humans were incapable to carry out the tasks well enough, and they slowed down the Inuaki workers. That was the point when the gene pool modification of the Earth's population came about: this time though they incorporated Inuaki genes into ours instead of directly using their own.

A: Are you saying that you and me are actually related?

D: That is the case.

A: So we have some Inuaki DNA, right?

D: Yes, you do. You, as a species, exist because of us. The genetic material of Earth's habitants were crossed with our genes, and thus the human species was created.

A: How come we don't look similar to you?

D: The Anunnakis made sure not to modify the physical appearance of the natives because the original body plan conforms to the source environment; it‘s perfectly suitable for living on the given planet as it is.

A: According to a scientific hypothesis, human DNA has undergone major changes at one point and we have one common ancestor throughout the planet that lived in Africa some 180,000 to 300,000 years ago.

D: That‘s correct. That was the first instance of gene modification.

A: The first one?

D: Yes. About 40,000 ago the Anunnakis added their own DNA to the then-existing human DNA.

A: For what purpose?

D: Because the situation reached a point where humans began to recognise who the Anunnakis really were, who responded to this by shaping human physique to approximate theirs in an attempt to become more readily accepted by humans.

A: So we carry the genetic material of Inuakis, Anunnakis and primitive humans.

D: Precisely.

A: But there is more Anunnaki in us than anything else, isn't there?

D: Not really. The second modification could not be extended to the entire population, so humans with genes received directly from the Anunnakis started to interbreed with people who got their Anunnaki genes indirectly, via the Inuakis. Also, there were straight blood lines that retained pure Anunnaki origins.

A: We are more or less the same by now though, aren't we?

D: We are not, actually. There are still pure bloodlines.

A: Are you saying that some families respect their origins and do not marry into other bloodlines?

D: Yes, indeed.

A: What happened to the Anunnakis after they left?

D: They have never left. They live here, among us, only keep a low profile, if you will.

A: I have heard this theory and am really not sure what to make of it.

D: I am not trying to convince you but as a matter of fact, they are the ones controlling humans. Whether you like it or not, they are the ones who control the planet from behind the scenes.

A: Tell me, do these Anunnakis resemble reptiles that walk upright on their hind legs?

D: Right.

A: There are some urban legends circulating about reptilian creatures.

D: Call them what you will but they are the direct spawns of Anunnakis.

A: I am aware of this theory but find it hard to believe any of it. No-one knows for sure or has seen them...

D: They are known to my kind and to some others. Even the governments work for them.

A: Hmm…So we share some common traits with them.

D: Yep. Also, there is something in the human brain we got from them that is responsible for negative emotions and aggression.

A: And how do they control us, in your words?

D: Mass revolutions about 65,000 years ago caused the Anunnakis to retreat and carry on the controlling from behind the scenes. A few secret societies were thus formed that outlined the current world religions at large. They trained up priests for serving their purposes, introduced certain dogmas and half-truths that seemed to work quite well, as people gradually started to respect and follow these priests.

A: It is common knowledge that in the past there had been human sacrifices in the name of 'pleasing God'.

D: To please the same gods, of course. You must know that such murder rituals are still in practice today because these beings depend on an energetic nourishment like that. One of the secret societies has the goal of passing down these rituals, and certain occult organisations are spread across the globe to target every societal class.

A: How do they do that?

D: Through governments, selected agencies and corporations, as well as the banking system, military and police forces, legislations, the school system, and media channels. Due to the servitude of the people they once trained up, and that of their descendants who continue to serve the Anunnakis, they are now present everywhere and are the current leaders of our world.

D: How has all this been achieved?

A: They represent an early species that possess ancient and very advanced knowledge. They are masters of physical matter, know all aspects of the Universe and are competent astrologers. Besides, this species are capable of influencing the human mind and the planetary weather patterns, and things like redirecting energies and disturbing the peace of mind. In other words they can do virtually anything, anytime, again and again. By using religious views they managed to plant false and unnatural beliefs into the human mind, all in their own interest, of course. They made people believe that astrology and natural practices are the works of the devil, who also happens to be the originator of dreams according to their dogma, when in reality dreams are gateways between the Universe and the Matrix. Anyhow, the devil as such doesn't even exist. They erected a monument or a special building over each of the energetically distinct or potentially radiating spots of the Earth's surface to block their activities. Basically, they ensured to have the human awareness numbed in every conceivable way.

A: I still don't quite see how all this made them absolute leaders.

D: They used religions as a tool to systematically program humans to ignore their own intuitions. Politics and the banking system, in particular, have also paved the way to their success. They are in control of our money; they provide us with food, shelter, home, schooling, freedom, health and everything else. Royal families are direct descendants of them. Their blood runs in the veins of state presidents. Every world leader is connected with these secret societies in one way or another.

A: Are the state presidents and descendants of royal families aware of their ancestry, at all?

D: Yes, they know their origins. Most of them comnply with the leadership decisions made to manipulate, control and restrict our lives. Basically we are born, live and die under their rule.

A: There are certain spiritual movements that are aware of and speak up against them.

D: True. However, some of these movements are supported or funded by them in order to present the masses with half-truths.

A: It sounds like a vicious cycle in which we remain enslaved by them, whatever we might do.

D: We need to listen to our hearts more. As no creature is above Creation itself, we are fundamentally all equal so no creature has the right to tell another one what to think, believe in or pursue, for that matter.

A: Science has a use, though. It has enabled us to learn and evolve; it made life easier for us.

D: They control science, too, which has taken over the role of religion to a certain extent. Science, as we know the term today, has nothing to do with the reality of the Matrix. The scientific doctrines they present us with make up an artificially fabricated system at large that was designed to confuse people by diverting attention from what is real. At a certain point in human history the credibility of religious dogmas became questionable and the Anunnakis had to find another way to stay in power. Therefore, they increased the brainwashing of the younger generations, although over time the emphasis shifted from religion to science as a means to achieve this.

A: To avoid what? What are they so afraid of?

D: Of the moment when humans wake up and realise that existence is not restricted to the physical body. That we are a part of the Universal Consciousness, we are free and eternal just like Creation itself.

A: Even if what you are saying is true and people did realise this, do you honestly think it would make a difference?

D: People would rise and chase them away. Their problem is that they have actually nowhere to go. Their planet is finished and other celestial bodies are beyond their reach. Anunnakis have come to a point where the Matrix will make modifications on them as a species, and they don't want this to happen. They are really scared.

A: I still don't get it! If this is true, then how come they haven't been debunked yet? Why are they able to carry on?

D: Who is going to debunk them if they control everything? Anyone who speaks up against them is branded either a lunatic, paranoid or a warmonger. Our shadow leaders have built a perfect system of manipulating the human mind and emotions. They tell us what to think, what to believe in, how to react to things, what to eat and drink and listen to, and so on. In fact every aspect of our lives without exception is carefully programmed and overseen. Everything is taken care of, is thoroughly planned and executed in accordance with their agenda. Think about it: when a scientist discovers something that might adversely affect their empire then hundreds jump up and launch a fierce attack on the discovery. If they want to implement a new scientific theory, on the other hand, hundreds will come forward to support it. Still, there are people who cannot be fooled or corrupted and take a stance by what they have discovered to be the truth. These individuals are then shut out, held up to public ridicule or put out of the way by an accident, unexpected death or 'suicide'. Everything down to the smallest detail is controlled.

A: They would be powerless against large numbers of like-minded people. Surely they cannot murder the entire human population. There must be people within the system who know and are willing to reveal the truth.

D: Those persons in service of the system who are becoming conscious of the truth are eliminated, so that they pose no serious threat. A different method is used for controlling the masses, though. Humans are mind-controlled mostly by chemical substances.

A: By chemicals?

D: Everything is programmed, including drinking water, foodstuffs, medicine; – I mean everything.

A: Can you be a bit more accurate?

D: Chemical food and water additives such as preservatives, as well as prescription drugs are designed to make the human brain react to certain stimuli and ignore other stimuli.

A: Medicines save lives.

D: Some do, yet other ones are developed to distance humans from the Primary Source.

A: Maybe so. It is hard to tell where we would be at without antibiotics and vaccines, though.

D: Vaccines are the biggest con. They attack the immune system, actually. I felt terrible last time I got vaccinated. Actually, I watched on how the microbes that were injected into my body attacked and destabilised my chakras. My body was shaking as the jab was affecting my lymph nodes and glands.

A: Drugs have beneficial effects, too.

D: True, but you can live without them. Drugs have more disadvantages than benefits, actually. Illness is a sign, a message that you are doing something wrong. Maybe the air is polluted in your area, your lifestyle needs changing or your thoughts and emotions do not serve you. Instead of swallowing pills you should examine these factors, really. Pills don't do much as far as I can see but merely mitigate symptoms, mask the health issue your body is trying to communicate and are unable to point to the reason for your illness. The pill then breaks down in your body and transforms into energy. Depending on its constituents, it either up-regulates or down-regulates fluid secretion that results in you feeling better. This isn't the right thing to do though, for the human body can self-regulate much better if the real reason for illness is identified and tackled.

A: You might be right but the discoveries of antidotes have brought an undeniable plus to our lives.

D: The more antibiotics you take, the more your body protects itself from them – up to a point where it doesn't react to that drug anymore. Bacteria and viruses are part of our lives, part of the ecosystem. Man and bacteria have coexisted from the dawn of time so I say it is about time we accepted them. Our bodies actually know this and that everything has its place.

A: How about the Anunnakis, who are said to be controlling us? Where are they now?

D: They live among us but hide from our eyes and other senses. You may say they live in another dimension, yet they live here. Anunnakis take part in our lives but we cannot take part in theirs.

A: But where are they, exactly?

D: They live in enormous underground facilities in some sort of cities, and come to the surface to mingle with us. Humans are unable to recognise them even face-to-face.

A: In other words they are invisible to the human eye?

D: No, they aren't, actually. They are visible alright but they can take up any kind of appearance they wish by projecting an energy field around themselves. This is why they stay unrecognisable.

A: How do they achieve this?

D: With their mind.

A: No technology of any sort involved?

D: Nope. Their mental powers are higher than of humans. It is all a game to them. They keep deceiving people without making an effort by using any image they want to project.

A: And they move freely among us?

D: Not only move but also lead us, or even share a household with us. Your boss, a lover or a friend might be one of them.

A: Are you telling me that I could be married to an Anunnaki without my knowledge?

D: In theory, it is possible. In practice there is zero chance, though, for they do not mix with other bloodlines without having a good reason.

A: Not even with individuals who share part of their genetic make-up?

D: Only in special cases. They might accept outsiders when refreshing their bloodline is deemed necessary, but only after a thorough screening.

A: Of what sort?

D: Based on genealogy, personality traits, astrological characteristics and much more.

A: Astrological characteristics?

D: Yes, especially astrological characteristics matter to them, as they know well that planetary activities impact one's personality. Astrology is the most ancient of all sciences by the way; the entire knowledge of the Universe can be accessed through it.

A: Is it so? I didn't realise its significance before.

D: Because you are not meant to know it. You have been told that astrologers are magicians in service of the devil. Now, with the failure of such reasoning we are instead told that astrology is a complete waste of time.

A: Why is astrology belittled that way?

D: Astrology helps one synchronise with the Universe. To be in harmony with the celestial bodies means to be in harmony with Creation itself. The Sun, the Moon and the other celestial bodies of the Solar System on the level of subconscious influence us all. The Earth acts like a huge magnet that creates a magnetic field by revolving around its own axis. This magnetic field has a major impact on all Earth life, as do cosmic cycles, the pulsating of the Sun, electrical signs and electromagnetic winds. Humans, therefore, ought to take these into account cycles for there is an ideal time for doing specific things, such as harvesting crops or conceiving a child. And vice versa; there are times when the same activities should be avoided...nothing at all is accidental.

A: I just can't see why they would cut us off from knowing these things. Us knowing more would benefit them just as much.

D: On the contrary. Humans would realise the meaning of life and the ruling race does not want us to do that. Just think about it; a consciously lived life would grant constant access to the inexhaustible resources of the Matrix. We could heal ourselves by cosmic energies and carry out the appropriate phase of agricultural work at the right time, resulting in immeasurable abundance for all. And by doing so the use of insecticides could be eliminated as pests can be easily removed during certain phases of the lunar cycle. Also, if we harmonised our activities to the planetary movements then human children would be born more vital and talented, and would feature more favourable bodily parameters, just to mention but a few benefits.

A: Hmm… And how can a plant keep insect pests away from crops?

D: Pests can be deterred or destroyed by the use of specific plants, either by planting these in the soil bed or by spraying the crops with their extract. You are better off planting them than juice and spray it, though.

A: Can you give me an example of a plant like that?

D: Marigold, for instance. It protects vegetable beds, even raspberries and strawberries, from pests. Plant a marigold here and there in the vegetable garden and one at both ends of the soil bed in order to protect your food. I know for a fact that it works, and I told my grandparents about this, who didn't believe me at first but after time they saw I was right. They haven't had any problems with the strawberries since then.

A: How does this plant work?

D: By secreting a substance that deters pests. It interferes with the energy field of the parasites that leaves them with no choice but to flee. Of course, the marigold protects itself with this mechanism, which also happens to benefit other plant species in its vicinity.

A: Are there many such plants?

D: Plenty. Every plant is good for something, really. No thing is without a use. There are two main factors to be taken into account by anyone who wants to use medicinal herbs for human treatment: the actual astrological cycle at the time of harvesting, and the person they are harvested by.

A: I didn't realise these things mattered.

D: Healing capacities are maximised during certain periods. The harvester's mood and state of mind is an important factor because he or she is the first one to touch the herb and their energy leaves an imprint on the plant.

A: I see.

D: The person who picks medicinal plants must be healthy, calm and balanced. This is very important.

A: Most people are unaware that it matters at all.

D: Plants are wonderful living creatures. They are good; they are here to help us. Unfortunately we kill them and treat them as waste…as we do with Christmas trees, for instance. You should hear their scream when they are felled! To no avail. Nobody hears their cry!

A: You told me that you liked Christmas.

D: Sure, I really love the vibe of it. Luckily, mother bought an artificial tree some time ago. The thought of it that matters… anyhow, it looks pretty. I doubt I could stay at home with a dead tree and be even excited about it. People have a tendency to kill and feel just fine about it.

A: Excuse me?

D: Humans kill off the planet, deplete its natural resources and are being really complacent about it. I want to talk about this next time, though.

A: Fine. Let's stop here, then.

I remain seated and thoughtful for several minutes after David's departure, while I am trying to digest the new information. I recall reading about Sumerian clay tablets in a book by David Icke entitled The Biggest Secret (1999). The book was about an archeological find that were discovered in 1850 A.D. some 400 kilometres from Baghdad. The writing on these clay tablets were later translated by the world-renowned researcher, historian, writer and linguist, Zecharia Sitchin.

According to Sitchin, the tablets describe a superior race, namely the AN.UNNAK.KI that was present in Sumer and has originated from the planet Nibiru. Sitchin also reports that according to the tablets, Nibiru has a 3600-year rotational cycle and its orbit stretches from between Jupiter and Mars to well beyond Pluto in the far distance. There are astonishingly accurate diagrams of the Solar System on the clay tablets, including their precise order, proportion and orbit.

These Anunnakis came to Earth some 450,000 years ago in search of gold, as Sitchin informs. They landed on the African continent and began mining, but after time the Anunnaki workers rebelled against the work. The elite therefore decided to create a hybrid race that is more suitable for heavy labour. They then experimented with several designs and ended up using the human form we have today. According to the clay tablets, there are genetical lineages that were allowed to rule over the hybrid race, and they also tell us about how the first kingdoms were founded.

It is worth mentioning that based on the findings of conventional history, archeologists maintain that humankind had suddenly undergone a revolutionary change some 200,000 years ago*. Homo erectus* thus evolved into Homo sapiens, which have subsequently reached its current build-up, today's human race, the Homo sapiens sapiens about 35,000 years ago. No one knows for sure the reason behind these sudden changes in human evolution, and the explanations remain less than satisfying. What is proven by scientific research though is that we share a common female ancestor who lived in Africa between some 140,000 to 300,000 years ago.

SESSION VIII.

A: We have talked about the devastation of our planet. Is there anything else you would like to add to that?

D: Just think about what would happen if the microbes living in our body started taking a drop of blood and use it as fuel in their cars, or took a piece of bone out of our body and flaunted it as a piece of jewellery, or cut our hair and give it as a present to someone who throws it away. This is what we do to Earth. We torture, mutilate and dissect her in the name of science, evolution and universal wellbeing. This is what we have learnt from the Anunnakis, – to destroy the very planet that nourishes us and to turn it into a wasteland – and we've learnt that well.

A: How could we survive otherwise? What else could we use as a means of transportation or to keep ourselves warm and fed?

D: You are able to do all this with the sheer power of our your minds.

A: Even if it's true, we do not know how. Why aren't we taught the method of doing this?

D: Because schooling is under the same source of control. Occult organisations purposely destabilised the education system. Formal education is based on logic and a rational way of thinking. Academic subjects are designed and organised in a way that intuitive powers are neutralised in the learning process and the endless memorising of data disables access to the Matrix. Children from an early age are trained to become bio-robots by their teachers who forbid them to voice their own opinion. Even parents contribute to the process by saying things like: 'you must learn, pay attention to your teacher', … 'if the book says this or that then it must be true' … 'I survived school and so will you' … and 'education made me the person I am today', and so on. Adults inundate us, kids with such sayings. Why do you think today's pupils are not interested in the subjects? I was bored to death in kindergarten and I didn't want to go in most days. Why should I memorise things I know to be untrue?

A: We need education in order to become literate, for instance.

D: Grown-ups need to change the education system, that's all, but you must want to make a change before anything could happen.

A: Don't tell me that subjects like biology and history are useless.

D: These would be indeed useful if the supplied information were correct. We are learning their 'truth' at school, and so did you. Your generation works for them and unless things change, we will be working for them, too. Children cannot break this vicious cycle even if we feel how harmful it is, because you keep us in it. Most of the adults buy into these fairytales out of complacency, fear or for the sake of an easy life. If you think you have all you need then why would you bother?

A: Well, we have grown up in this system.

D: You aid to maintain a system that was never right. You all are to blame!

A: What else can we possibly do?

D: First of all, you must want a change in perception to happen that would finally debunk their scam and help identifying them across the world.

A: Identify whom?

D: The Anunnakis.

A: How could we do so if we are unable to recognise them?

D: You should want to see them, and you will. There are people who have the ability to see them, just like I do. The Anunnakis are among us, in our lives. I am too young to be even considered credible and those adults who can spot them are afraid of the consequences of speaking up or taking action.

A: So what can be done about this?

D: Those who can see them should point them out to others. Vision is a gift of the Creator that needs to be used.

A: How come some people see them while the rest of us cannot?

D: Stronger than average connection with the Matrix enables a heightened sense of perception. Becoming aware of the bond between our body and our higher self facilitates this connection, actually. One might gain access to the stream of information once the information can flow freely between these two structures and everything becomes visible on an energetic level. Nothing remains hidden from that point.

A: What about the persons lacking this ability?

D: They can activate it by start practicing this way of communication and so this gift will become attainable to them, over time.

A: What should one do exactly to establish the connection?

D: As I have said earlier, every will, word and thought is charged with a certain vibration. If you wish for something, then this thought transforms into a thought-energy-form on contact with the Matrix segment that, in turn, allows the wish to manifest in the physical world. It is like planting a seed and waiting for its germination to finally harvest the fruit. Humans now have greater creative powers than ever before.

A: How can this kind of superior vision be developed, though? Are you talking about the perception of the third eye?

D: You might call it the third eye but it is the first eye, really, because we should rely on this organ for gathering information. What we detect with our biological eyes is merely a projection of a reality that the Anunnakis keep programming us with.

A: Is there a specific technique that we can learn in order to activate our third eye vision?

D: Certainly. The first step is to re-establish the lost connection between the mind and the higher self.

A: What do you call your higher self, precisely?

D: Your higher self is the Truth. It is the perfect, real knowing that is hidden deep within us. It provides us with direct connection to the Matrix, to which every individual has access but this pathway is much weakened and blurred by various interferences.

A: What kind of interferences?

D: The Anunnakis do not want humans to find out the truth, so apart from inundating the population with a constant flow of false information, we are also poisoned with chemicals to keep our minds in a sort of blurred state. These chemicals attack the pineal gland specifically, which is an extremely important part of human anatomy. Another one is the thymus, for an activated thymus would increase our lifespan, for example. Every gland has a different function which could be fine-tuned to receive information directly from the Matrix rather than from the lower field of Earth as it currently happens.

A: What is within the lower field of Earth?

D: Due to the artificially generated blocking, humans receive information from this field where all the low vibrational thought-forms are found. Anunnakis store energy related to fear, loathing, worries, phobias, death and all the rest of destructive forces in this region. And we are 'nourished' with these energies since we have open access to this field, mostly.

A: Humans show good intentions, as well.

D: Those come from the Matrix field.

A: And where is this 'lower field' found?

D: All around the Earth. The planet is actually wrapped in it. Most pieces of information come from this lower field, and generally only a small fragment of the received information reaches us from the Matrix.

A: How can we access information from the Matrix?

D: By setting up the connection between your mind and your higher self.

A: How?

D: I give you an example. What I personally do when I have a question that Aghton does not answer me is that I stand straight and ask the Matrix with my eyes closed to let me connect to it so that I can find out the truth. Then I go on to tell myself that if the answer to my question is 'yes', then my body should lean forward slightly and if it is a 'no', then I should bend backward a little. It is as simple as that.

A: And the answer always proves to be true?

D: Every time. Try it. You may start with asking questions you know the answer to. Take care though not to autosuggest the answer but to remain neutral in your mind and let yourself be surprised by the answer. Ask your question in a way as if you didn't know the answer to it.

A: Suppose it works for me. What else can be done?

D: Aghton is instructing me to share a technique with you. First of all, find a spot where you can be alone, for example in your bed before going to sleep. You start off by instructing your body to remove everything that is harmful to it in a natural way, without causing any discomfort or suffering – I mean everything that has no Truth equivalent in the Matrix. Ideally, you ought to do this practice daily for it is extremely useful. Then, you may carry on by asking your higher self to get in touch with you.

A: And how will this connection be established?

D: For example, when I talk with my higher self I use the power of thought to get to a special place. I visualize myself being on Inua by our favourite tree with a view to the sea. You can go to any place that means a lot to you by mental visualisation, wherever that might be.

A: I like spending time at a waterfall.

D: Fine. You visualise it, then look at the water and the surroundings. Try inhaling the scents that linger in the air, dip your fingers in the water…and feel the place. You could name this sacred spot the Secret Place of Truth,which will be yours only. The next step is to try and become aware your higher self. You will feel an enormous surge of love at first, a surge of love so powerful that you may feel as if you can barely fit into your own body, followed by a feeling of relief and inner peace. Once you get yourself into this mental state you can start addressing the Matrix. Tell the Matrix what you wish for, but please know that only things concerning you will be manifested this way. You cannot ask your higher self to get your grandma healed, for instance. You could inquire into the reason why she is ill, though. Also, you can only do mental programming on the things that concern you directly, and nothing else.

A: Suppose I would like to see the Truth. What shall I ask from the Matrix?

D: Simply that you would like to see the Truth. That is all. Your higher self will know what to do. The Truth will come to you gradually, bit by bit, because the human brain cannot process vast amounts of information all at once.

A: Okay. Let's say I am unwell. Can I ask for a recovery from my illness?

D: Sure, just say that you would like to recover from the illness. That way your higher self will show you the reason why you fell ill in the first place, although you will need to eliminate the cause of your illness before you can recover.

A: How can I possibly find out the cause?

D: You may get a mental image in your head, or perhaps receive messages through dreams, but if you choose to ignore the guidance then you won't have a chance to heal.

A: What if one's illness is rooted in a karmic bond?

D: Then it will be shown to you in such a way that you can interpret it. Now we are living in a time when problems trailed from past experiences can be resolved. The main thing is your willingness to resolve it.

A: Can I ask my higher self to recognise the Anunnakis?

D: Go ahead but remember, first you need to cleanse your body from the harmful chemicals that disable pineal gland activity.

A: What are these chemicals, exactly?

D: There are many. I spotted them in soft drinks and food items… but the most harmful one is in toothpaste. It is very clever: brushing our teeth before going to bed means that the poison can work in our body the whole night.

A: What is in toothpaste?

D: Fluoride.

A: Fluoride helps to keep our teeth healthy.

D: Fluoride has no effect on the teeth whatsoever. It is added to toothpaste to block pineal gland activity. I know this for a fact but I have been forced to use it regardless.

A: Are you convinced of its harmful properties?

D: By one hundred percent.

A: What is the meaning of this alleged mass poisoning in your opinion?

D: The primary targets are the people who were born after 1960 because the karmic cleansing of Earth has begun around that time and since then more evolved souls have been populating the planet as an Earth incarnate. There had already been some advanced souls here by that time but things sped up between 1990 and 1996 by the arrival of way more individuals with latent 'paranormal' abilities. That said, I have no clue why you call it paranormal because such abilities are actually perfectly normal. These persons pose a threat to Anunnakis, for the latter cannot disguise themselves in front of such individuals. The Anunnakis therefore conducted some experiments and concluded that the best thing to do is use chemicals to numb the normal functioning of the human sensory organs. They couldn't have forced the entire population to take medication, so they started adding these to foodstuffs. Very simple yet effective. Have you noticed that the concentration of food additives rises by the year?

A: Actually, no.

D: Because you are used to it by now, which is unfortunate for them – alas, for us, too, – because these chemicals cannot be limitlessly exploited. Therefore they have implemented even more powerful interferences between people and the Matrix.

A: Such as?

D: Such as relays, mobile phones, energy bombs and gamma-rays.

A: I don't believe you.

D: Why not?

A: Where does that leave them if we all die?

D: Not all of us dies due to interference. Sure, more and more will in fact die but not the entire population. They intend to turn the survivors into living puppets, so to say – but I am certain it will not go that way.

A: So what will happen, then?

D: It is going to be just fine. The Matrix is currently working on optimising Earth conditions. However, we are facing climatic and economic difficulties.

A: Yeah, you told me to buy gardening tools and seeds...a house with a garden.

D: You really should try and do that.

A: Or we can put some money aside for lean times, I guess.

D: The banking system will soon enough collapse around the globe and money will have no value whatsoever.

A: What do you mean? How soon?

D: Around late 2009 or the beginning of 2010.

A: That soon?

D: Yes. The sooner, the better because Earth has to purge herself by removing these vibrations and every kind of economic manipulation. Humans have been under Anunnaki ruling for far too long.

A: Will there be enough food around?

D: We will eat what we had stored or produced. It is important therefore to put some staple food aside.

A: Wow. That doesn't sound too good!

D: Trust me, it is very good. I personally cannot wait for the year 2012 to be over because things will stabilise after February 2013, which marks the beginning of a new era. The era of Earth and of her children, a time of bliss and peace. Know that earthlings are good. Everyone who has Inuaki genes is special. Almost everyone will carry on.

A: How many people have Inuaki genes?

D: Many of them. I could not add them up but I recognise them on the street as my brothers and sisters. Romania is very pure in this respect by the way; there aren't a lot of people of Anunnaki descent around. There are some, but not a lot.

A: How do you recognise them?

D: I recognise my loved ones from their vibration. I simply look at them and feel their essence. In fact, you are able to do the same.

A: How about the negative elements?

D: Try this: look into the eyes of the person you are talking to. Watch his or her eyes and nothing else, not the smile, nor the gestures. Ask your higher self whether the person is an Anunnaki or an Inuaki – and your higher self will answer you.

A: What do I do if I realise that I am facing an Anunnaki?

D: Ask your higher self to reveal their true nature to you and then you will come to understand that the most you can do is avoid them. Do not take advice from them and do not follow their instructions.

A: Do they realise at all that they are part Anunnaki?

D: Some do, but most of them don't. Only those in high ranking positions know, really. Such persons have been explained and they have probably come to terms with it, or maybe even play a part in controlling the planet.

A: Can we help those who aren't even aware of their ancestry?

D: No, we cannot. They have a tendency to lean towards the bad. Every act comes from a person's inner essence. Why do you think occult monetary societies exist and only certain individuals become members of these? Why is it that only a few people are ready to create misery to a mass of people?

A: And what will happen to these individuals?

D: They are walking their own path. We cannot interfere with the plans that the Matrix holds for them.

A: How about those people who want to change their ways? Aren't they allowed to stay here for much longer either?

D: No, they won't be able to conform to the new energies because they have a different build-up. They walk their own path.

A: Frankly, I cannot believe that everyone with Anunnaki genes belongs to a single group. There must be people who do not belong to any groups.

D: Trust me, there aren't. This is not something that can be easily explained. Anyhow, Anunnakis can be recognised by their vibration, and they also seek out one another to form groups and organisations even if they do not realise why.

A: And everyone in these groups has Anunnaki DNA?

D: Not everyone. Those persons lacking Anunnaki genes have the chance to change.

A: Why do you think these people joined the Anunnakis in the first place if they haven't got their DNA?

D: Out of curiosity, or fear, or maybe as a means to climb the career ladder; the latter being a fairly common reason lately. Some have simply followed their parents' footsteps, who had also been shown a false reality. There can be many a reason.

A: And what can they do to conform to the new vibe?

D: Nothing. The Matrix decides upon that. If their interference is not that dangerous then they may leave the Anunnakis' Matrix segment. If they cause too much interference, however, they will not go on, unfortunately… Well, it was their decision.

A: I mean shouldn't they get a second chance? They did not realise what they are a part of.

D: It is not for us to help them, only they can do that by asking for help from the Matrix through contacting their higher self, for example. If they have no access to the answer then I guess they might have a problem, still I am not sure what else they could do.

A: Are there many members of these organisations who are not of the Anunnaki bloodline?

D: Unfortunately, yes.

A: Even here, in Romania?

D: Sadly, even in Romania, despite the fact that something special is going to happen here.

A: You did mention that earlier.

D: Let's stop for today.

David has left and I turn on the computer to research fluoride and I also type in 'pineal gland' . The vast amount of information available on the subject comes as a surprise. The most comprehensive source I find is at http://www.fluoridealert.org. Here I learn that investigating the effects of the chemical element fluorine on the human pineal gland has only began as late as year 1990. The pineal gland is essentially a small gland between the two cerebral hemispheres that is responsible for the secretion of the hormone melatonin. Melatonin is known to aid the physiological changes associated with puberty and protects bodily cells from the effects of free radicals.

The first researcher on the subject was Dr. Jennifer Luke from the University of Surrey, who showed that fluorine primarily targets the pineal gland and that the accumulation of this chemical element causes serious complications in the body's normal functioning. She has identified fluorine as an agent being responsible for triggering the premature onset of puberty and reducing the body's ability to protect itself from free radicals.

On the same website I also find out that fluorine causes cell mutations in the fetus, which results in increased susceptibility to contracting cancer later on in life. A number of research papers propose that the element fluorine is directly responsible for bone cancer. However, this research is still in its early experimental stages and since it goes against conventional science, it is not approved. This is hardly surprising if we consider the potential impact of such discovery from the pharmaceutical industry's point of view. Just imagine if fluoride [fluorine compounds] was proven to be toxic! Anyway, you may look it up yourself if you are interested. There is a wealth of fascinating information available on the subject.

While I am reading up on the topic I stumble upon several articles about the pineal gland helping the human body to adjust to the new vibrational level of Earth. Suddenly it dawns on me that all this is available to us. Anyone can access the information on these subjects, yet we seem to need an outer source such as either another person to draw our attention to it, or something that cuts right down to the bone. I wonder why it works that way.

SESSION IX.

A: Can we talk about certain types of therapy today?

D: Go ahead and ask.

A: Can you say something about cancer treatment?

D: Well, a person contracts cancer if he or she goes against the laws of Matrix. If they go astray by ignoring their life's mission and abandon their karmic path then the body responds to this by developing various diseases. The problems involved with deviating from our mission plan can even be trailed from a previous life experience – meaning that one's soul might embark on a new incarnation while still be carrying unresolved issues from a previous life; but the chance of recovery is there all along. Contracting cancer is not a punishment. On the contrary, it is a huge help. People who recover from it are very precious in the eyes of the Creator.

A: Okay, this is too much for me.

D: Why? Wouldn't you warn your child before he makes an irreversible mistake that will cause him suffering for hundreds of years? This is what the Matrix does; it sends a message. We could fight off diseases if we understood, accepted and adjusted our thoughts, actions and energies that go against our life's purpose. Unfortunately this is not something widely known.

A: Tell me how people should go about healing themselves.

D: Give me a concrete case. Who do you have in mind?

A: Let’s see… I have a patient who has a tumour in his stomach. What should he do?

D: As a starting point he needs to recognise the tumour as a living entity with a special mechanism, for it has developed in your patient's body as a response to the program he had 'written' for himself. First of all, he needs to start communicating with his tumour by addressing it lovingly, without feeling resentment. Tell him to welcome its arrival, thank the lump for having caused disease in his body and feel grateful for the warning. He must make it clear to the tumour that he understood the message. Then he has to start making changes in his lifestyle and way of thinking. He must avoid negative, pessimistic people and stop listening to sad stories and negative media, even quit watching movies with a negative message. And, of course, follow a health-conscious diet.

A: A conscious diet?

D: He must forego animal fat or chemically treated food items and needs to make sure only to use natural toiletries and detergents, and to avoid using any chlorine and fluorine containing products.

A: How long does he need to stick to this for?

D: Until the tumour disappears completely.

A: Could it be that simple?

D: Not quite. As I have said earlier, tumours are living entities so after greeting it he also needs to ask it to leave. Explain the tumour that he understood the message and makes the necessary changes in his life. It is essential that he really does change or else he has no chance of succeeding. Tell him to place his right hand over the lump while talking to it and imagine a how love, inner peace and acceptance radiates from his palm. Simultaneously he should ask the Matrix forgiveness and to cancel any disturbance he might have caused. Most of the time the Matrix does respond to this by sending ideas or mental images of persons and situations to show the root of the problem. The key to resolve the situation is to change the polarity of that particular action in the mind – and that's all it takes to get a result.

A: Could you be more precise?

D: When I link to the Matrix and query about an issue I have and a picture of say our neighbour appears in my mind then I understand that the problem is centered around that person or situation. Then I try and bring harmony to the situation, so first I ask the Matrix to forgive me and to neutralise the disturbance. After that I contact the person and make amends with him or her.

A: What happens if the person is out of reach because he or she has passed on or have moved to an unknown location, for instance?

D: In that case I talk to the Matrix, send it love and harmony with all my heart and ask for the person in question to receive it, wherever he or she might be. It's just like asking forgiveness for your sins, which are in fact disturbances and the Matrix cancels these for you immediately.

A: Do you mean if I pray to the Matrix to forgive me for murdering someone, it will forgive me?

D: Yes.

A: Can I repeatedly do this?

D: I mean regret coming from the heart. Making the same mistake and begging for forgiveness again is nothing but hypocrisy. Do you honestly think the Matrix won't take notice of that? It's the same as though you tried to trick yourself.

A: Murder is murder, though. And the Matrix forgives you regardless?

D: In certain cases taking someone's life doesn't count as murder from the Matrix's point of view as the act might be balancing out a prevailing disturbance. While the murderer certainly faces imprisonment according to the laws of most societies, in the Matrix the same murder might get 'registered' as a mere counter-effect of a previous act.

A: Suppose someone commits murder that is not of karmic origin. What happens when the murderer asks to be forgiven?

D: The Matrix takes note of that if you have honestly regretted it with all your heart. However, the disturbance can only cancelled out by an opposing act or force, so the victim will become your murderer in another life. When it comes to the point that you need to pay with your own life for the murder you once committed then the Matrix takes the fact that you regretted your act into account and instead of dying you might suffer an injury or illness, but you stay alive.

A: Are you saying that if I lose a limb, for example, then I deserved it?

D: Naturally, yes.

A: How about organ transplants?

D: Organ transplant recipients are often saved by a person's organ they know from another life or several lives. There are noble souls who volunteer to incarnate only to die at a precise time and become the organ donor of their beloved one, knowing that he or she needs to suffer and learn a lesson. So the prospective donor asks for permission to be born in the flesh on Earth and subsequently die in order to help the loved one along his or her experience.

This kind of a bond – in which a person dies to save someone else's life – is very rare, though. Actually, it is a form of repaying karmic debt. The persons sacrificing themselves this way even out their karmic debt with their act, so they can finally get on with their own life at rebirth.

A: A certain proportion of organ hosts report to have developed new habits they hadn't had prior to the operation, while some of them insist on actually feeling the donor's presence. How would you explain this phenomenon?

D: Every object or in our case body part stores the characteristics of the person it once belonged to by cellular memory. Cells are in fact individual units that exist independently from each other and are capable of recording the thoughts and experiences of a human being. When the transplant becomes part of the recipient's body it continues to operate in the same way it used to do in the donor's body and so the recipient notices to have developed 'new' habits and preferences. What is more, the transplant remains connected to the donor in a way, until the departed soul ensures that the integration process of his or her organ into the host's mind and body is complete. Them overseeing the recovery period is helpful.

A: Why is that only some hosts feel the donor's presence, while others do not?

D: Everyone should feel it really, because the donor's soul is always present. The difference lies with being aware of it or not, whether the recipient acknowledges or ignores this presence. Some seek the source of this phenomenon and others might deny it and reject the very thought of it – which cuts off all connection and communication with the donor. It all depends on the mindset and one's yearning for the Truth.

A: In some cases the recipient’s body rejects the transplant, though.

D: Sure. These persons either received an organ that was intended for someone else or failed to make a connection with the new organ on the vibrational and energetic level, in which case the host body takes the transplant for an invader.

A: What can be done about helping the body to accept the new organ?

D: Talk to it. Again, welcome its arrival, thank the transplant for the help and also thank the donor for his or her sacrifice. Ask the new organ to function optimally and to synchronise with the host's body. Ask the Matrix to remove the perturbation that caused the suffering. That is all that ought to be done... Actually, you know what I don't understand? Why does anyone put himself in such a situation in the first place? Why do they push the situation to the edge where they need an organ replacement to stay alive? A situation like that is preventable; one may recover from a long-term illness before it reaches the final stage.

A: You said it yourself that some problems have karmic origins.

D: I did. Those sort of problems can be resolved another way without suffering, tough, by working the opposing forces to cancel out the thought-form that once created the problem.

A: Meaning?

D: Meaning that if you found out that you have caused someone trouble in a previous life and you need to suffer as a consequence of your act then why not try and do something good to him or her in order to bring balance to the situation.

A: Well, that would be just wonderful. Unfortunately, we have no idea to whom we caused harm in past lives, never mind recognise them in our current life.

D: That can be found out. What matters is the willingness to face karmic debts, and life will respond to your wish by supplying you with situations where you can return what you owe. Now we have a good chance at correcting the mistakes we have done. Every perturbation generated in the Matrix can be dealt with if you really mean to do it. First and foremost one needs to live a conscious life and try to avoid causing any more thought-form that works against the evolution of human spirit and life itself. Things would be great if we stopped doing harm, if we understood that we are one and everything that surrounds us actually belongs to us…and that we need to play an active part in creating and maintaining the balance.

A: Sometimes people cause trouble unintentionally…

D: There is no such thing. How can you cause unintentional harm when you have the ability to assess a situation, have an opinion on things? You can either do something or choose not to do it. You have a free will granted to you to do as you wish. Every thought or deed that cause harm to the living – to another human, a plant, an animal or to Mother Earth herself – is an act against the Matrix, which creates a negative form, which causes perturbation and mostly comes right back at you.

A: I thought these energy forms remain in the Matrix.

D: At the beginning these forms did remain there for the most part, and the individuals responsible for them got those back in another life or little by little during several lifetimes, depending on the magnitude of the negative energy created. At this time though the generated energies are 'returned to the sender' so to say, because the Earth's energies – including her respective segment within the Matrix – have to be kept as pure as possible. The Matrix rejects such energies now. This is the reason why we encounter difficulties, 'bad luck' and illnesses during our lives. We are repaid what we give and deserve.

A: Do you take this for a good thing?

D: Sure. We get the chance to grow as a person instead of waiting for another life to realise harmony in our lives. This current life is our last chance to do it, really.

A: Do you mean we live our last incarnation?

D: No, we don't. We live the last incarnation in which we are able to change our karma. Other souls will be joining us on the Earth plane after the quantum leap, but only souls who did not load any serious disturbance into the Matrix. Do you realise now that Earth is approaching a new era…of goodness...and spiritual awakening...and peace?

A: I understand but still cannot quite picture what it will be like.

D: It will be just like on Inua, where a general state of peace, love and harmony prevails. People will soon realise that the time for warfare, conflicts and negative thought-forms is over. Earth has learned her lessons, experienced these aspects of existence and now she is ready to move on...and we are going with her.

A: Tell me, how long do we have to wait until Earth conditions will be like on Inua?

D: That is hard to say. I cannot give you an estimate because it depends on people's understanding. Earth will make the leap without a doubt but stability will be reached only after 2013. How long the wait is until the era of harmony begins I can't tell. I guess the new conditions might start stabilising after February 2013 and will probably finish by the end of the same year.

A: So the stabilising process of Earth and human life after 2012 will last for at least a year in your estimate?

D: Something like that...but it depends...

A: On what?

D: Planet Earth makes the leap on the end of 2012. Those staying here will have to transform their way of thinking and manifest it in their actions. If they are not prepared then they cannot make it and the Matrix field will send them a cleansing impulse. In other words the human race will undergo a sorting process again. After that things will quiet down. If humans understand what they are a part of then it will have a calming effect on the Matrix, too, and the transition phase will pass more smoothly.

A: How will the selection go?

D: Perhaps by a cataclysm, an epidemic or upheaval…there are many possibilities.

A: Are you sure that after 2013 things will calm down regardless of what people think or do?

D: Yes...as far as I can see.

A: Are we going to meet again?

D: I was instructed to meet you ten times this year. Ten sessions are programmed for now. We will definitely meet again after 2012, though.

A: Can you tell me why you have chosen me?

D: I did not choose you. I was sent. Meeting each other was encoded in our mission plan.

A: But why me?

D: Because you have pure Inuaki DNA. You are connected with both Matrix segments: the one of Inua and of Earth, as well. You are just like me in this respect.

A: May be so…I had no idea about it.

D: It is not necessary for you to know on the level of conscious, either. Our meeting was programmed for this period and it did happen. It was supposed to be this way. From now on you can access information on your own about the things we have talked about. Make sure to do so.

A: I will make sure.

D: I know you will put the knowledge that I shared with you to good use. Romania is a place with a unique mission.

A: You have told me this before. What kind of a mission?

D: A new understanding is to start right here. A person from here will explain people certain things and help realising their own mission. His or her arrival will be announced.

A: Announced by whom?

D: A man.

A: Is he around yet?

D: Yeah, actually he has been for many years. He is an old man by now but only in recent years has he realised his purpose and started talking about the person who is coming.

A: Sounds like John the Baptist II.

D: A soul who has the characteristics of John the Baptist and, in fact, has the same first name, too.

A: Is he known to the world?

D: Only a few people know about him. The time hasn not come for his voice be heard, but it is not far.

A: And so he will announce the arrival of the new Messiah?

D: Yes.

A: You mean the return of Jesus?

D: This particular Enlightened One shares common traits with Jesus, whose image and message has been tainted, unfortunately. This person also carries some of the characteristics of the beings used to live here.

A: Do you mean those who have always spread the words of faith?

D: Yes, those who revealed the Truth. This enlightened entity coming encompasses all of their virtues.

A: Is this person alive now? Has he or she been living among us?

D: The entity in question will not be born, instead will take up a body that is already living. And that body is here now, only another soul uses it at present.

A: So this Enlightened One will move into a body that already exists on Earth?

D: Indeed.

A: Is this body found in Romania?

D: Yes, it is.

A: Can you tell me where, exactly?

D: Actually, I cannot because I am not aware of who this person is; only the Matrix has that information. And the Creator, of course. I only know what will happen. Romania was chosen for this task, therefore our country will be partially shielded from the events to come. Romania will be playing an important part in supplying foodstuffs along with other roles that I cannot talk about at this time.

Anyhow, we live on a sacred land for sure. Even the plants know this, just look at how many medicinal plant species grow here in dazzling abundance. We should appreciate them more, really. Humans can reach a state of inner peace by turning to nature but not everyone cares to do so. The very fact that we exist in this time and place should induce us to recognise: this is our chance to evolve. This particular entity will enter every human's body simultaneously, if I may put it that way, at the precise moment of entering the body made available to him or her.

A: Can you explain?

D: The moment this entity joins us here on Earth in a physical form, his or her energy will penetrate us, too, in order to make us compatible with the new frequency of Earth. In a way it's similar to an action by which someone gives us information, energy or light. This is to help us conform to the new coordinates of the planet. When the breath of the Enlightened One penetrates us, we will then become more benevolent, more spiritually evolved, more understanding. As a result we'll come to understand and feel that we are all one and finally start acting accordingly. That‘s about it. Now I would like to stop.

A: Before we finish for today let me ask you one more thing.

D: Go on, then.

A: Do you reckon that we are going to realise somehow on the level of conscious that we will have become different?

D: Sure thing. The Matrix has already been working on this for some time by sending us high frequency thought-forms, which is done to raise our vibrational and energetic level so as to enable us for the reception and incorporation of this heavenly breath. Some people can sense that something is in the pipeline and have started to 'work' on themselves, whereas others have yet to understand why they feel different, but everyone without exception is exposed to this high frequency energy. Even the Anunnakis feel this and perceive it as a major threat, so they try to take steps against it. In fact, all these changes are taking place for one reason: to prepare us for receiving these higher energies. This energy package will be transmitted at one go, therefore our bodies must make adjustments to prepare for this. The minute we‘ll receive it we shall understand at once just what an amazing gift we'll have been given. It is like a light being switched on in our minds, a process that helps shedding new light to our perception of reality and so we will finally see the Truth.

A: Does everyone receive this energy from the Matrix the same way?

D: Yes, but there is a difference in how individuals handle it. Some people will not at all accept it.

A: Why?

D: They advance towards different levels. The Matrix is aware of this, therefore it blocks the access of such new energies by these individuals, because their charging up with this new energy would actually harm them. They are at a different level of the soul's evolution process and walk their own path. If they weren not excluded from the energetic transformation, they would fail to correspond to their new Matrix segment and so they would get expelled from it. This, in turn, would cut them off from reincarnating, leaving them with no choice but to wait for an indefinite period of time until their entire segment finally becomes compatible with them.

A: Would it be such a bad thing?

D: Of course it would, because by staying idle for an unknown length of time the chance of rapid progress would be denied from them. On the other hand, if they left as a group then they could prove themselves, finish their program and do things that raised their vibration level.

A: Thank you. We might stop right here.

SESSION X.

A: Well, I think this is out last meeting, then. I will miss you.

D: I will miss you, too, but remember that we can communicate on a mind level anytime.

A: Maybe you can, but I need to 'get there' first.

D: Sure we can. You will see.

A: What would you like to talk about today?

D: About the Anunnakis.

A: Go ahead.

D: They are experiencing the saddest period of their existence right now.

A: Why?

D: Because they know they will be exposed soon. Their time is ticking away and they do everything possible to prevent it, knowing perfectly well that the human mind emits brainwaves that can modify space and time and has the ability to influence the Matrix. Therefore they throw in everything to confuse the population and make them create energy-forms that abort the changes, if only for a while.

A: Are they able to create energy blocks for their own use to shield themselves from the new energy inflow?

D: Nope. This is our privilege, a gift exclusive to us. We are children of the Matrix, we correspond to our Matrix segment, whereas they are parasites of a kind. We are able to alter or divert these energies; they are not. Their only tool is to emit energies that make our minds blunt, to hinder our ability to receive information from the Matrix. They are certainly capable of manipulating the human mind, but there is not a thing they can do about the fate of Earth.

A: How do they manipulate us?

D: By generating fear. They are the grand masters of materialism and negative emotions such as panic, fear and loathing. Sure enough they have great talent for generating such emotions. What is happening now is the Truth spreading across the Earth and this has an impact on our thoughts. We have already started asking questions in search of the truth. Some people see what is going on, those who have already discovered who we really are, where we have come from and are headed to, and over time their voice is becoming audible. More and more people talk about the year 2012, about the polar shift, the economical crisis and global warming. There is strong evidence presented to underpin all this, but there are always people who doubt or plant the notion of cataclysm and mass death. All I would like to say on that matter is that it is meant to happen this way. For the sake of evolving we need to give up our old habits, free ourselves from the mental boundaries of what we think is possible and meet the process halfway by opening our hearts to what is awaiting us. The world will inevitably suffer, if only for a short period. Inua needed hundreds of years to adapt to the new vibration but it will take us a mere few years. This is our gift from the Matrix.

A: So how can we help along?

D: By wanting the change to happen and sending the Matrix such thought-forms that ask for these changes to take place. The more people will join in thought the easier and faster will the leap go and the least amount of losses possible will be involved.

A: I thought the Matrix makes these changes whether we want it or not, even without our active participation.

D: True, although without our acceptance we are bound to experience more strife and struggle, should we resent it, because the Matrix needs to remove all opposing forces first in order to create a balance. No sooner can harmony manifest then all disharmonious effects are removed from the Matrix segment of Earth. If mankind in its entirety works together then these positive thought-forms will help the process. Since the Matrix takes the lack of opposing forces into account, it will respond accordingly that may result in a less tough transition period.

A: You must surely realise that it is quite impossible to get the entire human race to follow one direction or to think the same way!

D: It is not impossible. Every single person's decision to accept the Matrix Wind's intent in fact helps the new energy influx and increases the number of active participants. The majority defines the direction we take. Remember?

A: I still fail to comprehend why the Anunnakis cannot leave us alone. Probably we may just accept their presence after all.

D: We cannot accept them, nor should we. If we knew their true nature, we would have chased them away a long time ago. Even if we did accept their presence they could not stay here, because they will not stay compatible with the new vibrational level of Earth.

Also, people will finally come to realise that they are their own masters. That they can be in charge of their own lives without the control of governments, certain families and the banking system, and they need not depend on such factors. The time has come for humans to awake the self, discover their true identity and take their lives into own hands. You do not have to swallow your daily dose of poison. And this is what the Anunnakis cannot come to terms with.

A: What else can be done?

D: One needs to see that in essence we are of the same beautiful mind and whatever we put our minds to, will happen. Ideally everyone should want these changes to happen so that we get closer to the tipping point where Earth can make the leap, figuratively speaking. Send out positive thoughts and spread this agenda.

A: How?

D: Talk to people, to your family and friends about the imminent changes, explain to them what it all means and why it is necessary. Reassure them that this is a natural process and everything follows a certain logic and that we are a part of this heavenly plan. Also, encourage them to take some basic security steps to see themselves through the temporary difficulties. This is about it.

A: What kind of security steps do you recommend?

D: Well, firstly it is best to stack away some food, crop seeds, tools or anything else that provides food and shelter. Secondly, prepare yourself mentally. It's much easier to go through scarcity if you know it will not last and a great reward awaits at the end of it. However, if we allow ourselves fearful thoughts then the thought-forms thus created attract the frequency vibration of fear. In such situation both the conscious and the subconscious is subjected to an unbearable amount of negative information that either induces the body's self-destruction or the soul leaves the Earth's Matrix segment. Neither of these options is desirable. Why would anyone miss such a great chance? Every soul has worked for millions of years to get here and so it would be a great loss to fail now.

Our job is to awake humanity, to raise awareness to what is happening or at least try to make them interested so they can find out more on it for themselves. We will soon see that reality, as we know it is actually a projection of our mind and even this projection is distorted and manipulated. True, people let themselves be manipulated, blackmailed, misled but this fact does not diminish our sole responsibility in the matter, for it is only ourselves to blame. The time has come when our silence will not be forgiven. We have to be forthright with what we know. All of us. There is no time to keep hiding just because we worry what the neighbour might think of us when he finds out our concerns. Just think about what the neighbour will think of you when he finds out that you knew what was in store but kept it for yourself.

A: People will think that I have gone insane.

D: You can live with that. Some might think you are crazy, some share your insights, yet others might just start looking for their own answers. Focus on how many people you can make aware, help or even save. What is more meaningful to you, be condemned by some people or help many other?

A: Well, I would put helping first, of course. But what can be done in specific terms?

D: First of all you need to wish for becoming a better, more understanding person every day. During a short morning meditation try to enter the spectrum of love frequency daily. This enables you to step out of the frequency of loathing within the Matrix. Then ask the Matrix every night before going to sleep to let you be in direct contact with it during your rest. Anyone can connect to the Matrix this way and vibrate in unison with its pulse and keep up with the changes it makes to Earth.

A: That does not sound overly hard.

D: It is not hard. This is the easiest way to change ourselves.

Our bodies and minds currently undergo radical although gradual changes to prepare us in every aspect for the changes on Earth. The very second the planet makes the leap we will be there with it, experiencing another world projection where fear, loathing and materialistic aims are unknown. There will be no Anunnakis either for they cannot come with us, instead they temporarily remain in another field in the company of beings similar to them. They foresee this and are being fearful of it.

The notion urges them to increase their energetic and information attack on us.

A: How do these 'attacks' manifest?

D: On the physical level they bombard us primarily with adulterated food. The most common staple food on the planet is bread so certain 'enhancing' agents are added to its ingredients. At the same time an interesting vaccination agenda goes on to eliminate certain so-called illnesses and whoever speaks up publicly against vaccination is ridiculed, condemned and rejected. Also, a number of books are published and entire television series are funded for the sole reason of disproving certain truths. They have many methods to do this. For instance, on an energetic level we are radiated with vicious energies that block our love chakra and this cuts us off from receiving the beneficial energies sent by the Matrix.

A: Are we under continuous attack?

D: I feel the radiation twice a day, once around midnight and once at noon.

A: For how long?

D: For about half an hour.

A: Do you think this happens worldwide?

D: As much as I can tell this information is broadcast universally at the same time, around noon and midnight by Romanian time. (+2 GMT)

A: And how exactly do we get 'nuked'?

D: By the aid of some devices that resemble granite monuments but in fact are hollow. Such chambers contain huge crystals with certain programs encoded within them. The crystals, which are accessible by underground tunnels, are visited by Anunnakis from time to time to check and adjust the radiation intensity.

A: Where are these monuments found? Under the ground?

D: No, aboveground. They are visible and well known to all. These are each located in England, The United States, Egypt, France and three other countries, totalling seven.

A: Can't we do something to stop this radiation?

D: No, we cannot. All that can be done is to protect ourselves from its effect.

A: By doing what?

D: Copper provides the best protection for this.

A: Copper? And how should we use it?

D: Wear a copper bangle at all times. Make sure it is either circular or oval. Do not use rectangular ones.

A: Why? What is wrong with a rectangular shape?

D: Rectangularity does not match the human energy field. Everything is round on this planet in a way, such as the chakras of the body or cross-sections of a tree trunk, the head or limbs...even the sign of infinity. Mother sometimes wears a rectangular ring next to her wedding ring. I see perfectly clear how it interferes with the proper functioning of her chakras, it makes them shrink in size and changes their rotational direction.

A: Are you certain that wearing some copper object is sufficient to keep the radiation away?

D: It helps a lot for sure. Ideally the bedroom should also be protected.

A: How would you go about that?

D: Run a copper wire along the bedroom walls or at least frame the bed with one continuous wire, and make sure to tie up the two ends. This field offers protection, especially if you send the notion of protection to the Matrix at the moment of touching together the ends. Copper is sacred.

A: What makes you say that?

D: Because it creates a field very similar to the vibrational field of love.

A: I see. This might be an explanation for the connection between copper and planet Venus.

D: Copper positively influences plant growth and has a therapeutic effect on the lungs. In the near future mainstream science will discover that copper has a beneficial effect on the human DNA. By wearing copper the human body can fully vibrate and that opens up the love chakra. Opening your love chakra enables your body to start fending off any kind of energetic attack.

A: How‘s that?

D: Because this way the soul synchronises its pulse to that of the Matrix. It resonates with the Matrix and therefore it offers support and protection to one's soul. What this means really is that mankind is on the road of Truth and rising, and this journey cannot be cancelled or disrupted any longer. We are here on Earth to help the planet to rise and change and the Earth in return will present her inhabitants with a gift in her own way. It will be just great and very different from what we are familiar with. This is why we need to realise our own capacity to help her by thinking positive thoughts and wishing for the old system to collapse so we can enter the new era. We cannot let ourselves be influenced by the fears and opinion of others, but must listen to our heart. If you feel the need for a change then you should want it to happen with all your heart, all your being. Center your thoughts around freedom, change and love as often as possible. An ideal world needs to be created in our mind first before we can start living that reality. We should feed it with our hopes and dreams so it can eventually manifest in our dimension. It is time we understood that no one can steel our lives and our destiny, or make decisions for us. Please join us who have come to share this information with you. Please help us to help you.

A: We can try but I am not sure it will work.

D: Your will is all you need. It is not difficult to do, just send the thought of initiating change to the Matrix. The Matrix then receives, enhances and manifests this thought-form. This is all, the rest will take care of itself.

A: I promise you to try.

D: And do not forget about our telepathic meeting on Sunday evenings.

A: At half past ten.

D: Yep.

A: I think we can stop here. Is there anything else you want to tell me?

D: Not really. I love everyone and I love the Earth. I hope I was able to help.

A: Of course you did.

D: I wish us all to meet in a new world.

A: I really hope we will meet again, too. I already miss you.

D: As I said we can meet anytime you want on a mental level. As often as you like.

A: Okay, just let me to get used to the idea of these telepathic meetings first.

D: I told you that all you need to do is wanting it.

A: It is somewhat difficult for me, though.

D: Trust me, you can do it. We can all get together anytime we want.

A: There are challenging periods in life when you simply do not find the time for yourself or to meditate, for instance.

D: That is the effect of the Anunnaki influence. When you feel something to have you stranded or blocking you then think of us coming from Inua. We will help you and everyone else who ask for our help. We are you.

A: Thank you.

D: Let us all meet in the millennium of peace and love!

By thinking about our sessions I realise in hindsight that I have infinitely more questions I would like to ask him. Maybe this is all I was meant to learn this time or perhaps the Matrix wisely only shared the information with me that I was able to digest. I cannot claim that I am not the least upset, angry, shocked or frustrated by what I have heard. Some of the information was not completely new to me, while other bits caught me off guard and made me realise that I know next to nothing. Despite my rational mind fiercely rejecting a part of what has been said, deep down something tells me that this is all true. Although I cannot yet form an unbiased opinion on this experience at the time of writing this, my firm belief in the honesty, purity and innocence of this extraordinary being induced me to write this book. I saw the wisdom – and sometimes the weariness from the weight of withheld secrets – in the depth of his blue eyes.

I would like to ask you that at least for a few weeks all of us should try to ignore our adult self and perceive the world through the eye of a child who is hungry for real knowledge. Try to put aside our old views and habits and forget what we were taught, what was forced upon us. Let us long for the truth together by getting in touch with the Matrix and extracting information from it from this day forth, no matter what our neighbours, colleagues or parents think. We are individual entities but on the level of Matrix we are a single unit. As the divinity said through the mouth of this child, we are amidst a very special time when Earth is undergoing transformation so it may tune in to the changed vibration. We might have struggled for several lifetimes just to be here now, to have the chance to transform our existence. The Matrix has brought us closer to this special moment with each lifetime, with every birth and death of ours. It is down to us that we are living here and now; this is our chance. Together we can break through the burdens of ignorance, complacency, false scientific doctrines and materialistic worldviews and proceed to the OTHER SIDE where perhaps a better, more peaceful and more understanding world is awaiting us.

I love you all and may the Truth fill your hearts. Rememberthe famous words: 'I am the Way, the Truth, and the Life'!

Publisher's note

David was born in Romania in 1998 and currently lives in a remote Romanian village. This interview series was conducted in 2005, and David has had subsequent meetings with the author since then. The publication of the original transcript in 2009 and the release of its Hungarian edition in the following year have earned David many friends and avid readers. His story has reached an even broader audience over the past four years through discussions on various blogs, forums and websites, owing to the open nature of the Internet. Favourable reception and positive feedback from others mean that many people would like to contact him for further information. Though most readers wish to get in touch with David or the author for the right reasons, Aryana opted for withdrawing from worldly attention for a while. Having been a scribe to a document that raises unsettling questions, she wishes to avoid the harassment that is often provoked by such radical revelations.

David is out of reach for now to protect himself and his family, but as he puts it, everything happens in its own time.

The publisher would like to take this opportunity to clear up a potential source of confusion regarding a series of YouTube videos for those of you who have been following David's story. The footage referred to herein features another Romanian child, Alexandru Pagaru, whose interview was broadcast by the Romanian television channel B1 TV. This interviewee is definitely not David, as no public interviews of any kind have been conducted with David to date.

Though originally written and published in Romanian as a print book, parts of this text have been circulating on the Web for a number of years, stirring interest and raising eyebrows equally. Fragments of the original manuscript translated by software are based on unauthorised Internet uploads and are beyond the author's control. The full Inuaki story, Volume I, is now accessible in English to a worldwide readership.

March 2014

Epilogue

Humans have undeniably been experiencing not only exponential socio-cultural transformation but biological alteration, too, that parallel a dizzying rate of planetary change, as Earth is likewise going through a rapid change of biomass and climatic factors. The excitement about the shift in human consciousness, which is thought to be mirrored by the physical signs of Earth changes, is palpable among the spiritually inclined. An encouraging trend shows in the rate of people who educate themselves along their path of spiritual awakening; they research information and are willing to adopt a new approach and let go of patterns that do not serve them anymore, which inadvertently contributes to a better human experience on the whole. And there are those who tend not to question or challenge existing structures but simply go with the flow and bow down to what they think of as their fate with resignation. These individuals sense, track or understand the undercurrent of happenings the least, and even if they feel an initiative to change their old ways, they might not know how to go about it or are being held back by fear.

Regardless of one's level of consciousness, though, I believe that in every human being there is a spirit who is aware that something is happening to our world. In fact, no matter whether one takes conscious steps towards the paradigm shift or drifts closer to it, carried by the currents of worldwide changes, we are ultimately on the path of evolving into a new human race.

The unfolding of forthcoming events that pave the way for the shift in human consciousness has been speculated, investigated, scripted, and re-scripted countless times over many years by a multitude of researchers, doctrines, and spiritual and pseudospiritual teachers. Many people have fragments of information biased by their cultural backgrounds, personal beliefs, expectations, and preconceptions about the transformation process, which potentially fuel competitive displays of spiritual authority or superiority, a self-contradictory effort, of course. However, as David points out, no human being alive can know for certain just how and when this heavenly plan becomes tangible for us. Save for untainted sources of ancient knowledge and wisdom, agents of the divine plan are hardly concerned with prevailing theories. Instead of rephrasing, criticising, or endlessly reciting revelations by others, genuine messengers only share information sourced from their spirit guides, irrespective of the anticipated reception, effect, or their own personal take on it, for that matter.

Such is the case of the young boy referred to herein as David, whose insight was duly shared by a Romanian psychologist. Having put her career and professional credibility at stake, the author deserves credit for her gutsy determination that was led by a sense of duty of being commissioned with sharing David's profound message with whomever would allow themselves to hear it. Definitely out of the ordinary and nothing short of outrageous, their conversations build a picture of the evolutionary journey of our species that rings true and makes perfect sense as the mosaic pieces fall into place. These thought-provoking stories you are about to read might be frightening to some, generate mixed feelings, or unleash strong emotions ranging from unconditional compassion through anger to denial, as reality can and often does exceed our wildest dreams of what is considered possible.

Others might even assume that this book has been written in a badly concealed attempt to capitalise on much discussed topics such as pacts made between Earth's governments and extraterrestrials, in which humans are traded as experimental subjects and gene banks to alien races. Of course, by now most of us have heard of certain alien groups in charge of worldwide institutional and banking governance whose ultimate goal is to create a world government and achieve total control over humanity. As a matter of fact, there is growing evidence for the existence of black op organisations in service of this aim that select and program human beings for unofficial undercover military operations. One need not search extensively for witness testimonies – take Project Camelot, for instance – by involuntary participants who claim to have been sent to Moon and Mars facilities on assignments, and have been equipped with a microchip implant for their convenient tracing and control.

While this all is perfectly possible and might well be happening, this volume represents a different perspective altogether, because the channelled information herein has come through a then seven-year-old child with no other means of relating to these phenomena but his inner guide. This special child, who is raised in a regular middle-class Romanian family of orthodox Christian faith, is trying to come out on top of parental control, exorcism, and the painful disbelief experienced from his immediate environment, his sole compass being this telepathic contact, his inner guide; a sober, clear, and truthful voice. And this tone of voice resonates with me as it lends a sense of authority to this document, making this incredible revelation a credible account in my eyes.

Plenty has been written about crystal and indigo children, whose perception of life is so strikingly different from that of their families and of anyone else in their direct contact that all rational reasoning fails to explain it. More and more such souls are said to be joining this planet in physical form in the new millennium, yet David's presence and significance outweighs even most of those children's.

According to David, his assignment on Earth is to help us lift the veils of apathy as he encourages us to take charge of our lives with a passion that fires the soul. At the same time he demonstrates a radical but down-to-earth (no pun intended!) approach to the necessary steps by sharing his own perspective on everyday life issues and offering practical advice. He also initiates group meditation – a scientifically proven method of reducing armed conflicts, suicide rates, and other incidences of violence – in order to accelerate the healing process and reach the tipping point of shift in human consciousness. Not unlike dedicated researchers, David brings attention to the blindfolds designed by the powers that be, which artificially generate and maintain life conditions that keep our focus on not much more than bare survival by means of entanglement in continuous financial challenges, conditioning by manipulated information, and force-feeding with substances that cut us off from the Divine Light.

David gives plenty of food for thought as he speaks about his experience on a planet he calls Inua, which I found awe-inspiring. It made me yearn for a state of harmony currently unknown to man. I believe that in the near future we will take our lives into our own hands and empower ourselves to show due respect to Creation and a genuine care for our precious planet and all the life that it sustains in more efficient ways than the current world leaders, whose complacency or vested interest drive them to act for the planet only for show, in a bleak attempt to shut people up and carry on business as usual.

I am certain that Earth has entered the ascension phase and that we go with her; that the changes underway cannot be prevented or delayed much longer and we will soon enough experience a majestic transformation of human consciousness. Although, as David accentuates, the course of the dimension shift is unknown to him as well, I personally feel that if we are bound to follow the footsteps of Inuakis, then a breathtakingly amazing journey is ahead of us.

The Translator